WRITE OFTEN.

(These lines will be appropriate to those whose hearts beat responsive to kindred souls; but never could they have more so than during the past four years, when the affections of fathers and brothers and lovers on the tented field turned to the

Put None But Loyal Men on Guard.

Gen. Grant met with enthusiastic receptions in Illinois, especially at Springfield. While en route to that place at Annapolis, esies were made for a speech, when the Lieutenant General presented to the assembly General

Logan, and by means of waving his hand, gave to understand that gallant

Jack would speak for him. After considerable hesitation Gen. Logan spoke as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS—There's nothing that would give me so much pleasure as to make you a speech, but I have several reasons for not doing so.

First, there is neither time to make or to listen to a speech, and second,

I am too hoarse to talk. However, if I really thought you people needed a speech I would burst my throat in the effort. [Loud cheers and cries of "Go ahead, Jack," etc.] You are true and loyal men and your women are among the handsomest

Gentlemen, I am here like yourselves, to see and do honor to General Grant, who has so successfully led us through the great struggle for liberty and justice. The occasion is for him because of his talent, his judgment, his loyalty, his courage, his pertinacity, we owe our national existence. I am glad to see the people thus welcoming the great representative of this people, the greatest God Almighty has created. There will be no trouble in maintaining the position of the greatest people on this earth. To all alike, those who went to the battle-field, and those of you who remained at home and gave sympathy and encouragement in the shape of prayers and supplies, is honor due. In future acts you did in this war. Do the same in the civil as you did in the military part of the victorious history. Put none but loyal men on guard. [Great cheering and exclamations of "We will do it," etc.] But all the affairs in the hands of loyal men. Let this people know. [Enthusiasm.] Do this, my countrymen, and the time will never come when the people will not see the glorious old colors waving all over the land of North, South, East and in the west. [Cheers.] And you gentlemen, who could not sympathize with us in this great struggle for popular liberty and independence, stand aside, remote in position,

until such time as you can prove you are capable of taking a place on the watch-tower.

Is This a White Man's Government?

WHAT SAYS JEFFERSON? WHAT SAYS HISTORY?

The following is an extract from an able speech delivered by Hon. John

A. Bingham, at Cadiz, Ohio, on the 15th inst.:

WHAT JEFFERSON TAUGHT.

Neither will any intelligent American be deceived by the clap-net of their platform, that they adopt the resolutions of 1793, as interpreted by Jefferson, "in his solemn official inaugural of 1801." Pray, what interpretation did Jefferson in "his solemn inaugural of 1801" give to the resolutions of 1793? None whatever; but, on the contrary, flatly declared in opposition to any such resistance by States of the authority and acts of the Government.

In that memorable address Jef-erson enjoined "absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority,"—the vital principle of Republics; from which there has no appeal but to force the vital principles and immediate parent of despotism." These are his words; consider them! The Union parties declare with Jefferson, that

"the absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority is the vital principle of the Republic." The Democratic party of Ohio declares that the true theory is the resolutions of '93,—the right of any State to re-

SALUTATORY.

KIND FRIENDS, we greet you once again. Near three years ago, in obedience to a conviction of personal duty, we exchanged the pen for that sterner weapon, the sword, promising that "when this cruel war is over" we would again return to our post. That consummation has transpired. Battles, resulting in the death or maiming of tens of thousands of our friends and countrymen, are no longer anticipated with trembling anxiety. More than half a million of patriotic heroes have suddenly been transformed from the soldier to the citizen. Instead of the hard march, the tented field, the bivouac, the dreaded hospital, the fearful conflict—they are pursuing the various avocations of peaceful life, surrounded by family and friends, and reposing beneath the shadow of their own vines and fig trees. After four years of conflict, we have restored what we must ever have—our flag, one constitution, one destiny. We congratulate our readers upon this consummation, and would humbly and reverently acknowledge in its accomplishment the assistance of an All-Wise Providence. The cost in blood and treasure has been fearful—households being made desolate and families beggared—but the great truth has been established for all time to come, that a republican form of government is no longer an experiment. Our Government is stronger and wiser to-day than ever before. The baptism of blood through which we have passed, must forever cement all true American hearts in one indissoluble bond of common interest and friendship.

Although there are to be no more marches and battles, the great work is yet incomplete. Grave questions are to arise, requiring even greater statesmanship than during the progress of the war. We need not assure our readers that these questions will be discussed through the Messenger with boldness, and with whatever ability we can bring to bear upon them. We still adhere to our long principles of Governmental policy; while the rise, progress and termination of the rebellion have still more fully confirmed us in their truth. These principles, as heretofore, will be advocated without fear of Rebels in the front, or Copperheads in the rear.

To Messrs. STICKNEY & EASTON, who conducted the Messenger during the first year and a half of our absence, and to A. B. EASTON, Esq., who has since that time had exclusive control of its columns and business, we return our sincere thanks for the satisfactory manner in which their duties have been performed.

Trusting that our intercourse with our readers in the future will be as pleasant as it was in the past, we enter upon the work before us with high anticipations of the future of our city, county and State.

A. J. VAN VORHES.

In Virginia there are thirty-nine candidates announced for Congress. In the first district, five; second, five; third, six; fourth, seven; fifth, five; sixth, three; seventh, six; and eighth, five. Several of the candidates have expressed their contempt for the congressional oath required of members, and declared themselves unwilling to take it. The Richmond Whig advises these parties to retire from the canvass.

Now and Then—A Scrap of Political History.

It was Dr. Watts, we believe, who said "God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform." Humbly begging forgiveness of Divine Providence for the implied and irrelevant analogy, we think that the Pioneer moves in a mysterious way, its "wonders to perform"—but without the same christian object in view.

For some reason which we do not propose to explain at this time, it makes a vast difference with some people as to whose ox is gored—whether the animal belongs to church or state.

The Pioneer of September 27th, in urging the claims of Senator Rice for gubernatorial honors, appeals to the unsophisticated and unwashed and untried Democracy in the following selective (!) strain:

"If you honor Mr. Rice with an election to the gubernatorial chair, he will once more enter your service and take up the great work that he struggled to initiate for the good of his State, and push them forward to completion. Mr. Rice's sole desire for success rests upon the belief that he can accomplish much toward restoring prosperity to Minnesota; that he can suggest a policy that will turn a large portion of the enormous emigration now seeking our country into our own State, and thus enhance its landed values, within a few years, millions of dollars, and make Minnesota what her climate and the richness of her soil entitle her to be, viz: one of the great states in the Union."

If Senator Rice's hopes of eternal happiness were suspended on so brittle a thread as this "belief" of his, we would not be willing to exchange one of his ten thousand five million railroad loans for his hopes of eternal happiness. Were the exchange made, the man who gets the worthless bond would have the best of the bargain—while each would be cheated.

Misery makes strange bed-fellows. A common poverty or misfortune sometimes induces virtue and vice to embrace each other; and the Pioneer's attitude of to-day, and the Pioneer's attitude of a few years ago, are truthful illustrations of this fact. The Pioneer of November 10th, 1859, thus spoke of Senator Rice and his fealty to party and friends:

"We commend the two articles, from the same pen, to the 'Untried' who are called upon to support the 'hobnobbing' hero of Bayfield."

Was SENATOR RICE "AVERSE TO A REPUBLICAN VICTORY?"—At the close of our article yesterday we intimated that the nomination of the Hon. George L. Becker for Governor was forced upon him by the Democratic State Convention, seriously against his wishes, and in disparagement of his just claims upon the party, because, from his supposed intimate connections with Senator Rice, he was regarded as the best man to bring the support of the Democratic ticket, and to break up the traitorous combinations which it was believed had been made in advance against it.

The same feeling controlled the Convention in making the other nominations upon the State ticket. It was intended, if the suspected scheme should be carried out at the polls, and Senator Rice really prevailed in the election through the defeat of the Democracy, that his satisfaction over such a victory should be modified by the fact that, at least, one-half of the harness which bore the remains of the vanquished from the field of the canvass, would be filled with the bodies of his most intimate and devoted personal friends.

And so the State campaign opened, not, as it might be confessed, under circumstances very auspicious to the success of the Democratic cause. Meanwhile Senator Rice was enjoying his otium—whether cum, or sine, we cannot say—upon one of the picturesque shores of Lake Superior. Bayfield, sheltered behind the Apostle Islands, is a quiet summer resort, so far as the matter of taste is concerned, we must commend the Senator for choosing it as a spot in which to while away his Congressional vacation, and perform his duties to the Democratic party of Minnesota, it was one of the very worst that the Senator could have selected. For the Democracy have felt that Senator Rice stood in the attitude of one who, while away his Congressional vacation, and perform his duties to the Democratic party of Minnesota, it was one of the very worst that the Senator could have selected.

For the Democracy have felt that Senator Rice stood in the attitude of one who, while away his Congressional vacation, and perform his duties to the Democratic party of Minnesota, it was one of the very worst that the Senator could have selected. For the Democracy have felt that Senator Rice stood in the attitude of one who, while away his Congressional vacation, and perform his duties to the Democratic party of Minnesota, it was one of the very worst that the Senator could have selected.

Such being the case, we do not propose taking stock in Lake City. There was a time when we admired that gem of Pepin, and loved many of its good denizens; but such a statement as the above would consign an ancient Jerusalem to eternal infamy. Why don't you deny the "soft impeachment," Mr. Leader?

himself away from his summer's enjoyments on the shores of Lake Superior, Senator Rice arrived at his home in St. Paul. The chilling coldness with which he was met by members of the party on his return, more than hinted to him that he had stayed away a long time, and had come home a long while too soon. He felt that he had committed a blunder, and that, at the last, it was necessary for him to be identified on the record with the canvass.

The address of the Senator was confined to a personal vindication, when his personal interests were not involved in the contest, and when its effect could only have been to divert the minds of the people from considerations of the highest consequence, to matters personal to himself, and utterly irrelevant to the canvass. Instead of proving an aid to the party, the Senator's address was looked upon as an inadequate and even impertinent intrusion of his personal affairs into a contest where he had nothing personally at stake, and concerning which he had not beforehand manifested even a common partisan interest. He had studiously avoided doing any good while he could, and the character of his efforts when they were at last made, rendered it impossible that he could do any good if it would.

We shall hereafter state the reasons which operated upon Senator Rice to keep himself aloof from our late canvass, and investigate still further the question whether he was "averse to a Republican victory?"

New Born Love for the Soldiers.

On Monday the members of the 8th Ill. regiment held their anniversary at Peoria. Col. R. G. Ingersoll, the commandant made a speech, and paid his respects to the men now professing to be the best friends of the soldiers. He said:

"This is not a political meeting, and yet I cannot forbear saying a word or two concerning the soldiers' friends. They belong to a party, and some of whom (I will not say all) were not your friends when you were fighting the battles of your country. They laughed at your wounds; they sneered at your scars; they mocked the corpses of your comrades; they prophesied your defeat; they hoped for your disgrace; they prayed for your overthrow and death; they despised the cause for which you were battling; they were the allies of your murderers."

Now you have reached home covered with glory, you are welcomed by the true people of the North, you are radiant with success, and the party of whom I have been speaking crowd around you and say they were your friends. Beware of them all! They do not want to help you; they want you to help them. When they come, tell them you can have no confidence in their sincerity till they bring back the thirty pieces of silver, the price of your blood; tell them to go and follow to the bitter end the example of their illustrious leader."

The White Man's Ticket.

We have heard, on several occasions, fellows brawling on the streets that they were going to vote the "white man's ticket"—that they were no "black amalgamations," &c., &c.

Now, it only costs half a dollar for an official affidavit, and five cents for a revenue stamp, and we hereby obligate ourselves to pay the fifty-five cents to each of these fellows if they will go before the Clerk of the Court or a civil magistrate and swear that a white man was not a "white woman of African descent." We will not reflect upon their fathers, for fear of a fight with the sons.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Lake City Leader, who has investigated the subject of the mounds found on the banks of the Mississippi, and especially around Lake Pepin, gives it as his opinion that Lake City is built upon the site of an ancient fortified Indian town which occupied about thirty acres in extent. The streets were regular, and the mounds equidistant from each other. The mounds are composed entirely of turf and surface earth, and in no case have there been any human bones found in them, with one exception, which, in his opinion, is of comparatively recent date. Just in the rear of this city of mounds was a large mound which had evidently been a pottery, large quantities of these having been found, besides large smooth stones used to grind the clay. The writer, judging from the absence of human remains, the manner of construction of the mounds, and the whole plan of the town, is therefore of the opinion that it was built by the aborigines as a defense against their enemies—in which view the State Historical Society are said to coincide.—Winona Republican.

Such being the case, we do not propose taking stock in Lake City. There was a time when we admired that gem of Pepin, and loved many of its good denizens; but such a statement as the above would consign an ancient Jerusalem to eternal infamy. Why don't you deny the "soft impeachment," Mr. Leader?

A Late Confession.

The Richmond Whig says: "There can be no doubt that had a slave never trod the soil of Virginia, she would at this moment be the greatest by far in wealth, population and everything that goes to constitute material greatness, by far the foremost of all the States."

Commenting upon the above confession of the Whig, the Chicago Tribune very truthfully avers that "it was to prove this truth that Helper's impending Crisis, that brand of infatigation, to endorse which was folly, and to read which was a misdemeanor, in the estimation of the Richmond Whig, and of the entire slaveholding South, was written."

Have the latter learned new lessons in political economy, or did they always really know what they now for the first time confess?

The Republican party, for years has made the fact embodied in the above the basis of their political faith, while the Democracy have based their whole party on its denial. If, this be so, must slaves still read the soil of Virginia? Why now that the negroes are no longer the property of their masters individually, must they be the property of the State collectively—to be bled, bagged, taxed, worked, bought, and sold without their consent? Since liberty is thus profitable in all things, why must it be stinted? Why must Virginia be still kept back in the march of progress, agitated by fears of strife with an inferior and outcast race, armed but not enfranchised, freed from their masters but enslaved by the State? Why must patrols and vigilance committees take the place of the overseer's lash, and why must the white men of Virginia still, as of old, lose half their own liberty to deprive the black man of all of his. Domestic slavery has been well defined as a state of perpetual war, wherein one side is always victor and the other vanquished.

The same definition holds good for political slavery or the attempt by one half the people to rule the other half by denying them their rights. Now that the Richmond Whig has learned a truth which it learned five years ago by the whole South would have availed the war, can they not learn it thoroughly and fully? It will save a new division into Northern and Southern sectional political parties, it will save from disorder, anarchy and poverty at the South, for capital never seeks investment in communities whose institutions are unequal and their stability uncertain, and hence it will, as surely as Emancipation, enrich and redeem Virginia. Who can tell what other evils it may avert from that and its sister States? Jefferson understood eighty years ago, as the Whig does to-day, the superiority of freedom over slavery. Hence he declared "all men are created equal." Hence he incorporated into the constitution of Virginia the provision "that all elections ought to be free; and that all men having sufficient evidence of permanent common interest with, and attachment to the community, have the right of suffrage, and cannot be taxed or deprived of their property for public uses without their own consent, or that of their representatives so elected, nor bound by any law to which they have not in like manner assented."

That clause fairly carried out to-day would give the ballot to the negro.

The Scientific American says:—"The unpleasant odor produced by perspiration is frequently the source of vexation to persons who are subject to it. Nothing is simpler than to remove this odor more effectually than by the application of such ointments and perfumes as are in use. It is only necessary to procure some of the compound 'spirits of ammonia' and place about two tablespoonfuls in a basin of water. Washing the face, hands and arms with this leaves the skin as clean, sweet and fresh as the skin of a child. The wash is perfectly harmless and very cheap. It is commended on the authority of an experienced physician."

We advise a certain class of men who perspired most profusely in consequence of their late fears of a draft to try the experiment. They need washing, while the prescription is cheap.

CHANGE OF TONE.—The New York World has recently become a fawning eulogist of President Johnson. Here is what it said about a year ago of Andrew Johnson:—"The only merit we can discover in this Baltimore ticket is the merit of consistency; it is all of a piece; the tail does not shame the head, nor the head the tail. A rail-splitting buffoon and a boorish tailor, both from the backwoods, both growing up in unlearned ignorance, they would afford a grotesque subject for a satiric poet, who might celebrate them in such strains as Dean Swift bestowed on Whiston and Ditton, or Aristophanes on that servile demagogue Hypereolus."

CHANGED HANDS.—Mr. A. B. Easton announces in the Stillwater Messenger that his connection with that paper has ceased with the last issue. It returns to its former editor, Mr. A. J. Van Vorhes, who was drawn from editorial to military life, early in the war. Mr. Easton will, we hope, continue to receive his deserved success. The Messenger will still flourish, and if Capt. Van Vorhes has not been sadly tamed by the war, he will "go for" this juggling kaleidoscopic Democracy, ineffectually.—St. Paul Press.

What meanest thou, brother Joseph? Have you just returned from Egypt, whither you were sent to purchase corn long ages ago? Don't you understand the logic of events, in this eventful age? It was not necessary, before we laid aside the pen for the sword, for a person to go around the streets to inquire what our position was on the great questions of the day. Both loyal men and Copperheads understood our position to an unmistakable certainty. Our long term of military service has not demoralized us, Joseph. Like all other soldiers, our belief in the immutable truth and justice of Republican principles has grown with our growth and strengthened with our strength. You can count on us, as always heretofore, as "going for" this juggling, kaleidoscopic Democracy, ineffectually," i. e. if we understand your language.

The Lowiston Journal (Maine) speaks thus irreverently of a popular conglomeration:

"At all times, the conservative party, when strong enough to enforce its will, has been a party of persecution. It poisoned Socrates; it crucified Christ; it threw the Christians to the wild beasts in the Roman amphitheater; it established the Inquisition; it forced Galileo to confess that the earth stands still; it laid its paralyzing hand upon Columbus; it gibbeted Quakers; it persecuted Arkwright; it laughed at Fulton; it adored American slavery; it believes in imperialism and opposes universal suffrage to-day. It always was, it is now, and always will be, like a purblind bat, fearful that the universe is to be given over, with the rising sun, to incalculable conflagration."

The Union Platform of Minnesota, which distinctly resolves in favor of universal suffrage, was written, we have heard, by the Hon. Ignatius Donnelly, one of the Representatives in Congress from this State. The second article of the platform prescribes that "the measure of a man's political rights shall be neither his religion, his birth-place, his race, his color, nor any physical characteristic; and that it shall be the duty of every citizen to permit any portion of our population to remain a degraded and subject caste, taxed to support, and compelled to obey a government in which they have no voice, and whose whole machinery may be directed to their destruction." It is worthy to serve as a model for future platforms.—New York Tribune.

Our neighboring State of Wisconsin is making steady if not rapid strides toward greatness. The population of that State according to the census of 1860, was 775,000. By the next State census it is ascertained that the increase during five years is 93,227, or about 12 per cent. This rate of increase continued during the next five years would give Wisconsin a population of nearly a round million. The census also shows that the total of moneys and funds levied by tax and raised by subscription for the payment of bounties in the whole State is $7,389,355.00. This is a large sum, but when divided among the eight hundred and sixty-eight thousand inhabitants of the State, it is considerably less than nine dollars per capita. The great Wisconsin is making very fair progress in population, considering that thousands of thousands of her citizens, by learned of the superior advantage of Minnesota, are yearly coming over this State to settle and remain, and by we shall outstrip the Badgers, notwithstanding the disparity between our years.—Winona Republican.

The Albany Evening Journal says that the son of a distinguished Southern statesman, now in the North, expresses himself in this language:

"We are loyal—the great mass of us—far more loyal than some of your own people. You can far better afford to trust us than you can your miserable copperheads. They are the vilest offenders of the war. Had it not been for them we should not have made into war. And yet they have the impudence to come to us, claiming to be our friends, advising us to be satisfied, and asking us to settle hands with them, and form a new alliance. The vipers! They have cheated us, they will never cheat us again. We had rather trust the vilest abolitionists than ever howled and hounded us down, than the best of them."

The action of the Republican State Convention of New York on Wednesday, appears to have been both harmonious and prompt. The following ticket was placed in nomination:

Secretary of State—Gen. Francis C. Barlow.
Comptroller—Thos. H. Hillhouse, of Ontario.
Treasurer—Col. Howland.
Judge of Court of Appeals—Long term—Ward Hunt, of Ontario.
Judge of Court of Appeals—Short term—John K. Porter, of Albany.

The Concord (Massachusetts) National bank was robbed on Monday of $285,500 in National and State securities. A reward of $30,000 is offered for the detection of the robbers and the recovery of the property.

UNION PLATFORM.

Adopted by the Republican State Convention held at St. Paul, Aug. 16, 1865.

Resolved, That for the suppression of the greatest armed rebellion ever waged in the world against liberal principles, the rights of mankind and the integrity of the republic, and for the great bonds of peace which we now enjoy, our profound gratitude is due to Almighty God; and under Him, to the wisdom, perseverance, courage and devotion of the loyal people of the United States.

Resolved, That while we recognize the dispersion of the armed forces of the rebellion, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that the local feelings and pernicious principles which culminated in rebellion still exist in the South to a great extent, and that it is now the duty of all loyal men to unite in demanding such wise and prudent measures of statesmanship as shall complete the glorious work of our arms, and such measures as may be necessary to the future safety and the lasting and perpetual peace of the nation.

Resolved, That having at all times denounced the dark spirit of human slavery, and having throughout the late war lent our hearty and cordial support to every measure looking to its suppression, we now call its extinction with "unfeigned satisfaction," and with the conviction that we have been instrumental in cleansing the nation of this foul blot; and we furthermore pledge ourselves never to permit it to be revived in any portion of our nation's domain, under any new name or under any cunning pretense; determined that not only slavery shall perish, but that all its forms, appliances and accessories shall perish with it.

Resolved, That inasmuch as the existing remnant of the so-called Democratic party is sapient to insist its counsels upon the people in the questions arising out of the close of the war; and inasmuch as it is just and right that that party should be held fast to the responsibility of its past record, we therefore charge upon it:

1. That a course of severity extending through thirty years, it accustomed the Southern people to govern, inspired them with contempt for the North, and prepared them for that day when failing no longer, to constitutionally govern the nation, they should set up the banner of secession.

2. That through their leaders they encouraged the outbreak of the rebellion; assuring the insurgents that for every regiment sent by the North against the South, one should be sent to fight in its behalf; and that the streets of Southern cities should run red with blood before the South should be subdued.

3. That by the denial of the right of the general Government to coerce a state into obedience, a denial resting upon the authority of the last of the Democratic Presidents, they palsied the arm of the Government in the early days of the struggle, and gave time for the treasonable conspiracy to organize and arm itself.

4. That at every stage of the great contest their sympathy was upon the side of the rebellion; and that to this end they organized societies for treasonous purposes; opposed every decisive measure of the general Government; resisted directly or indirectly the rebellion by retaining the black men of the South in a condition of penance and servitude, as an ignorant and oppressed class, set off from all hopes of future improvement, a source of constant danger to the white population of the South, and a reproach to the humanity and civilization of the entire Nation.

Resolved, That the spirit of our institutions requires that the measure of a man's political rights shall be neither his religion, his birth-place, his race, his color, nor any merely physical characteristic; and that it would be subversive of the spiritual form of our institutions, to permit any portion of our population to remain a degraded and subject caste, taxed to support, and compelled to obey a government in which they have no voice, and whose whole machinery may be directed to their destruction.

Resolved, That in the cruel murder of the late Executive of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, we recognize the natural result of the vicious principles of the rebellion, which, failing to destroy the life of the nation, struck down its ablest, most trusted and best beloved representative; and we pledge ourselves to gather from his martyrdom new devotion to the great principles which he so well maintained, and a defense of which he cherished.

Resolved, That we tender to the officers and soldiers who have so gallantly sustained the honor of our State and the nation in the late war, our heartfelt and profound thanks; their services and sufferings will ever be borne in remembrance by a grateful people; while the ashes of the gallant dead will be cherished as a sacred legacy which can be left to inspire our posterity.

Resolved, That the existence of an Imperial Government, sustained by foreign bayonets, the soil of our sister republic of Mexico a violation of the established policy of our nation, and a constant threat against its institutions and integrity, and we demand that our Government take such steps as will lead to the prompt withdrawal of the invaders.

Resolved, That the present financial condition of the country demands that the strictest economy be observed in the administration of public affairs, and that the administration of the State and National governments be so conducted as to make a bare subsistence be maintained, and that all inequalities in the burdens of taxation shall be removed.

Resolved, That the administration of the general government during the past five years, in the hands of the late lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, and in the hands of the present executive, Andrew Johnson, in all their efforts to preserve the Union and the liberties of the country, meets with our hearty approval and concurrence.

Resolved, That in behalf of the people of Minnesota, we thank the present executive of the State, his excellency Stephen Miller, and the officers associated with him in the State government, for the able, faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices.

Resolved, That in the event of the failure of proper national action, we are in favor of such State legislation as shall abundantly relieve the necessities of the disabled soldiers of this State and the orphans of those who have perished in the course of the war.

We cannot censure a man in business who does not advertise if he has nothing worth advertising; but readers must know that the business man who throws out his sign in a newspaper, and does not advertise of his stock of goods, can always furnish better qualities at lower prices than those who, either through shame or penuriousness, never let the public know what they have, or what they are doing.—Louisiana Flag.

Garr.—A peculiar kind of grit, not falling under any of the special expressions I have noted, yet partaking of some degree in all, is illustrated in the character of Lieutenant-General Grant. Without an atom of pretension or rhetoric, with none of the external signs of energy and intrepidity, making no parade of the immovable purpose, iron nerve, and silent, penetrating intelligence God has put into him, his tranquil greatness is hidden from a superficial scrutiny behind a cigar, as President Lincoln was behind a joke. When anybody tried to coax, cajole, overawe, browbeat or deceive Lincoln, the President nursed his leg, and was reminded of a story; when anybody tries the same game with Grant, the General lights and smokes. If you try to wheedle out of him his plans for a campaign, he steadily smokes; if you call him an imbecile or a blunderer, he blindly lights another cigar; if you praise him as the greatest General living, he placidly returns the puff from his cigar; and if you tell him he should run for the Presidency, it does not disturb the equanimity with which he inhales the unsubstantial vapor which typifies the politician's promises. While you are wondering what kind of a creature this man without a tongue is, you are suddenly electrified with the news of some splendid victory, proving that behind the face discharged of all tell-tale expression, is the best brain to plan and the strongest heart to dare among all the Generals of the Republic.

Miss HANNAH F. GOULD, the oldest female poet in the country, died at Newburyport Mass., a few days since, at the age of 76. Her mother died young, and she became the constant companion of her father, who fought at Lexington and Bunker Hill, and served through the Revolutionary War—a fact which suggested many of the subjects of her daughter's verses. Miss Gould published three volumes of her own pieces—one in 1832, another in 1836, and the third in 1841. In 1846 she gave to the public Gathered Leaves, a collection partly original and partly selected. The Diana appeared in 1850; and Hymns and Poems for children in 1854. Portions of these latter works are in prose.

We believe it is thought by sound theologians, that an ordinary sinner may repent and become the recipient of saving grace in a few minutes. The Democratic party now shows signs of political repentance, but its sins have been so fearful, so persistent and long continued, that it will not be received among the elect this fall. Prescott Journal.

SUPERIOR JOB PRINTING.

Having added to our former large stock of JOBBING MATERIAL, the Messenger Office is now better prepared than ever before to execute all kinds of PLAIN and ORNAMENTAL JOB PRINTING.

Our materials are mostly new, and our facilities for executing all kinds of work are ample. We can now turn out work that will compare favorably with that of any other Office in the State.

Bring or send your orders if you want jobbing executed NEATLY and EXPEDITIOUSLY.

THE MESSENGER TO-DAY.—The reader will not fail to discover that we bring out the Messenger today with a new face and clean hands. We have renewed our material throughout, at a heavy expense, and design to use our best endeavors to continue the publication of a paper that will not only be a credit to the Saint Croix Valley, but to the State.

We regret that our paper manufacturer disappointed us in furnishing a better article of paper than that of the present issue. In a few weeks the difficulty will be remedied, when the Messenger will present a typographical appearance second to no other paper in the State. Until then, we beg the indulgence of our readers.

A WORD TO OUR FRIENDS.—The war is now terminated, and with that termination the interest in the daily news and daily papers, to some extent, ceases. Thousands of readers who, during the past few years have regarded a daily paper a necessity, will now fall back on their weekly papers as a luxury.

It will be the aim of the editor of the Messenger to fill that desideratum.

We shall devote more space than usual to local matters—pertaining to city, county and State.

But in order to do this, our friends must assist us in furnishing items of interest pertaining to their various localities. We wish a reliable correspondent in every town in the county, to furnish us with such items as will be of general or local interest. By such means our country and State can be greatly benefited, as well as local communities. We are not, neither can we be, uninterested—hence we must rely, to a considerable degree, upon friends to furnish us with matters of interest transpiring in their immediate localities. If we are furnished with the publication, we will put the matter in shape for publication. Everything with reference to crops, improvements, new discoveries, or any subject of general or local interest, will add to the interest of the reader.

OUR OLD SCENARIOS.—Among the many familiar sights which greeted our eyes upon entering our sanctum and seeking ourself at our old desk, was the old scenarios which have been well used by our hands for many years past. What a crowd of memories those old scenarios suggest! Over nine years ago we commenced clipping with them for the edification of the readers of the Messenger. What volumes they have silently uttered to many of our present readers. They have talked of war and of peace, of prosperity and of adversity, of wit and of sage philosophy, of poetry and of dull prose, of fiction and of plain fact, of the marriage altar and of the tomb—nothing of everything that would interest the reader. Faithful old scenarios! We shall keep you sharpened and burnished for the future harvest.

OUR NEW SCHOOL HOUSE.—Not in fair running order yet—hence we are unable in our present issue, to do justice to local and general news. Within a few days, however, our office will be in admirable running order, when we will be happy to see our friends, and we are simply prepared to execute all orders in our line. Give us a call.

MINNESOTA CROPS.—Since our return to the Messenger office we have not been able to mingle as much with our farmers as we hope to do in the future. We have gathered a few items, however, of extraordinary crops, the value of real estate, &c., which go to show the superiority of our soil and climate.

THE MESSENGER.—The Messenger, Washington County, have just completed their wheat. One field of forty acres yielded an average of thirty bushels to the acre.

MR. E. P. BRAINARD. of the same town, sold to O. G. Leonard, a few days since, a tract of 94 acres, partially improved, at $18.65 per acre.

MALCOLM BLACK. of Cottage Grove, (an advertiser) sold his place to the same party.

HORACE GREELY IN HUDSON AND STILLWATER.—Mr. Greely accepted an invitation from the citizens of Hudson during his visit to our State Fair, and last Saturday addressed a large concourse of citizens of Wisconsin and Minnesota at the fair grounds near that city. Quite a large delegation from this city went down on the G. H. Gray. On this occasion Mr. Greely's topic was the condition of the country—its agriculture. He presented a masterly review of the late rebellion, from its first inception to its final failure, and in a most forcible manner presented his views upon the questions of reconstruction. As most readers are familiar with Mr. Greely's ideas on all these questions, it is not necessary to reproduce his arguments. Mr. Greely is a peculiar speaker. Without any attempt at oratory, his simplicity of manner and earnestness and sincerity of speech and elegance of diction, rise to the highest standard of genuine eloquence, while he himself seems wholly unconscious of the fact. We regret that hundreds of others of our citizens did not hear him on this occasion.

Mr. Greely, together with a number of citizens of Hudson, with their excellent band, accompanied the Stillwater delegation to his city, but immediately returned—Mr. Greely's engagements being such that he was compelled to be in Chicago last evening. At the hotel, quite a large crowd of our citizens had assembled to welcome "the white-headed philosopher," but not a fourth as many as would have been present had it been known that he would make our city a visit. At our leave Mr. Greely was introduced by one of our citizens. Appearing on the upper deck, he was received with enthusiastic cheers, but had only time to say:

"Fellow Citizens—I am the poorest man in the world to make a speech—especially when I have nothing to say, or the time to say it. I now appear before you for the first time; and to my regret, have but a moment to carry with me. The next season, I intend to visit this State, when I hope to acquire a better acquaintance with the people, and a better knowledge of the country. Till then, I bid you good-bye."

Mr. Greely was charmed with the beauties of the Saint Croix, and it is the universal desire of his friends that he will make us a more satisfactory visit next summer.

It may be superfluous to add, that all the excursionists feel under obligations to Capt. Gray for his successful exertions to render everything connected with the excursion of the most pleasant character. Capt. Gray always does that.

HOME AGAIN.—Lieut. F. G. Brown, Quartermaster of the veteran Fifth, returned last evening, having been mustered out of the service a few days since. A thousand welcomes to you, Frank!

REMARKABLE WEATHER.—While the eastern and middle States have been scourged by early frosts, we of Minnesota have not as yet seen the unwelcome guest. This morning the sky is bright, and the atmosphere balmy. The flower and vegetable gardens retain their June freshness and beauty, while the forests give no indication, as yet, of the "sere and yellow leaf."

NEW STORE.—Mr. William Tibbotts, heretofore so favorably known as a merchant of this place, has wisely concluded that there is no better place than Stillwater to tie to, and has resumed business at his former stand, Sawyer House, where he will be happy to see his friends.

GIVE THEM A WARM RECEPTION.—During the past few days we have heard of three or four attempts at burglary in our city. We don't like to see our city or county tased for coffee or grave digging; but at the same time we would advise every citizen to keep a revolver or maul by his bedside, and when shooting at these miserable dogs, to aim below the head and above the loins, and leave the result to a Coroner's inquest or Divine Providence. That is the only way to put an end to these outrages.

DEER.—A writer, who is good authority, says that a swarm of bees will throw off from one to four swarms in a season, but the last two are generally worthless. He appends the following advice:

"A swarm in May is worth a load of hay; a swarm in June is worth a load of corn; a swarm in July is worth a load of nothing."

Any explanation with reference to these machines will be given by Mr. J. E. Schlenk, Bernheimer's Block, Stillwater.

The Prescott Journal says: "Our readers may remember that, in the summer of 1863, a large number of warrants were stolen from the Land Office at Saint Croix Falls. A few days ago about fifty of these warrants, with a bunch of keys, taken at the same time, were thrown through the window into the office. They had the appearance of having been buried in the earth. Thieves have some conscience left, it seems."

The Taylor Falls Reporter says: "During this fall and the latter part of the summer, parties have been engaged in making explorations for copper: both on Snake, Kettle and Rum rivers and in this immediate vicinity. One of the explorers is Judge McCarthy of St. Paul. We have not learned any detailed results of the investigations, further than that they were quite favorable."

READING OF SERMONS.—A sermon preached before the University of Cambridge, by the Bishop of Exeter, and read by the Rector of the Episcopal Church last Sunday evening, has elicited so much interest, that a series of sermons by the same author, will be read as follows:

Sermons by the Bishop of Exeter; preached before the University of Cambridge. To be read on Sunday Evenings, at the Episcopal Church, Stillwater.

Sunday, Oct. 8—The Atonement.
Sunday, Oct. 15—Resurrection from the Dead.

Sunday, Oct. 22—God's Providence in the World.
Sunday, Oct. 29—The Ark Resting on Mount Ararat.

DONOR, &c.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. H. M. CRANDALL, this is one of the oldest Drug Houses in the Saint Croix Valley, and Mr. Crandall has always borne the reputation of keeping the purest and best selected stock to be found in the eastern markets.

THE GIANT WHEAT GROWER OF MINNESOTA.—It is not much of a feat to grow a few thousand bushels of wheat in a small garden, provided you have an industrious occupant, and the weeds have a penchant to grow—but it is something of a feat to grow and harvest as many bushels of wheat, sell it, and get the money in your vest pocket.

Mr. F. W. TRELON, of Denmark, in Washington county, has just harvested and sold (at $1.10 per bushel) sixteen thousand bushels of wheat.

What kind of you that, farmers of New England? Minnesota may be "too cold for you," but she is all right on the wheat question.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.—Of this great philosopher, and architect of his own fortune, it has been truly and beautifully said by Prentice:

Who from Heaven
The best of the best were sent,
Let Franklin be; then to our land there came Reason, philosophy and light.
He was Columbia's Scourge; from him
The voice of wisdom and of truth divine
In sweet accents fell. No fortune told Propitious accident on his humble birth;
Alone, unaided, through the storm of life
He grappled the giant, and won the brow with fame.

LAST MOMENTS OF HEMLOCK.—The sun shone brilliantly into the room where Humboldt died, and it is reported that his last words addressed to his wife were: "We have lived a long time, but we have not lived as we ought to have lived."

MISCEGENATION.

Miscegenation is a modern term by which we are told, but which is supposed to be elegant in expression and poetical in conception—and is now adopted as a substitute for that homely, though much used and much abused term in the upper circles of Southern Democratic society, AMALGAMATION. The readers of the St. Paul Pioneer and those who listen to the stump-speeches of Senator Rice, are familiar with the term. These papers, and orators of the style of Senator Rice, now a candidate for gubernatorial honors, are each mortally afflicted with the disease. Like the milk sickness, or mania potu, the disease first affects the brain, and through the brain the entire nervous system becomes unstrung and deranged.—After practicing miscegenation for over half a century, both in the cotton States and on the western frontier, miscegenation has finally demoralized the Democratic party, and they have got the disease on the brain most fearfully.

Senator Rice's stock in trade appears to consist only in a fearful apprehension of a commingling of races, provided universal suffrage should be adopted. We know of no place on the continent of America where miscegenation has been practiced, except in the Democratic States of the South, and on the western frontier in early days, when Democrats of Senator Rice's school of politics (a la Joe Brown) had control of the commercial and social interests of the western tribes of Indians. At that time, when the mixed blood of nearly every one of our old politicians of Senator Rice's school flowed in the veins of nearly every young Indian in the State, these same politicians adopted the habits of the white race, (i. e., chewed tobacco and drank poor whiskey) should be entitled to the right of suffrage. This was undiluted Democracy! These young savages, by borrowing the pantaloons of Indian traders and Indian agents, in order to conform to the "habits and customs of the white race," for years secured Democratic victories in Minnesota. During the autumn of 1862, these same unsophisticated Democrats murdered more than two thousand of our citizens, and made desolate the fairest portion of our State. It is cruel in Senator Rice and the Pioneer to thus discard their early principles and their old friends, friends by kindred and affection.

Old BUCHANAN once said, if there was a drop of democratic blood in his veins he would use a lancet and let it out. Were the old Indian traders and Indian agents of Minnesota, and the miscegenationists of the South to make the same christian resolution, it would require a forty horse power circular saw in every precinct in our State and the cotton States, to execute the christian work of mixed blood-letting. We have no hesitancy in making the assertion, and can substantiate the same by statistics, that wherever there is a commingling of races—whether African or Indian—there will be found Democratic victories! The present position of Senator Rice and the Pioneer, as a party measure, is therefore ungrateful.—They ought, at least, to regret their first love.

We do not admit the equality of the African race with that of the Anglo-Saxon. That they are a better race of people, however—more intelligent, more moral, more industrious, better in every respect than the breech-clout Indians whom Senator Rice and his party welcomed to the Democratic fold and the privileges of the elective franchise and full citizenship—we do insist upon, and no honest man can deny the proposition. This question of color is the very essence of the Pioneer and Rice knows it—every brawling politician on our streets knows it—"the way-faring man, though a fool," knows it. Four hundred votes will be cast for Senator Rice in St. Paul, by men less intelligent, less loyal, less moral and less wealthy than the blackest Freedman of Georgia. That is so!

Near a century ago, THOMAS JEFFERSON declared that taxation and representation should go hand in hand—and that all men are created equal. Will Mr. Senator Rice stand up and tell us when a buck Indian, or an Indian of the other persuasion, ever paid one dime of tax? We can point him to thousands of Africans who pay as much tax as he—Will the Senator stand up and tell us when a genuine buck Indian of the Democratic faith, was ever loyal to the Government? While his whole tribe were slaughtering our white citizens on the frontier, near a hundred thousand black men were engaged in defending the Senator's home and our Government. The one class is ignorant, depraved, blood-thirsty; the other, ignorant to a great degree, but moral, industrious and loyal to the Government. To the first class Senator Rice has extended the full privileges of citizenship—the other, he would consign to eternal slavery and degradation. One class is loyal, has fought on many battle-fields for the perpetuity of our Government, and if promoted to citizenship would make good citizens, add to the wealth of the country, and—perhaps—vote the Republican ticket. The other class, now regarded by Senator Rice's associates as citizens, are ignorant, depraved, brutal, uncivilized murderers, but—always vote the Democratic ticket!

Johnson on the Brain.

If the Johnson mania should strike in, we should have the largest Loco-foco funeral that ever occurred in the North-West. We hope it won't occur all at once. If it should, there are not enough of pine lumber on the St. Croix to make their coffins, or horses enough to drag the dead to their last resting place. One short year ago President Johnson was denounced by these same fellows as a "boorish tailor"—to-day they cringe at his feet and claim that he is the Mecca of all their hopes. Poor, forlorn, hopeless, Godless Democracy!

Several Democratic papers in this State have taken special pains to single out Col. Colville to the nominees of the Union party of this State, making him the target for a great deal of undeserved abuse. These assaults have called forth the following vigorous remarks in that gentleman's defense, from the Red Wing Republican. The public appreciation of the talent of Mr. Cole has been attested by his election and re-election to the important office of Attorney-General. He did not need a third election to establish his standing in the public estimation. But there was one for whom the public felt a deeper interest, and to whom they felt under deeper obligation, on account of valuable services rendered in the hour of the nation's need, and of disarming wounds received in that service, and which will be carried to the grave with him. That one is Colonel Wm. Colville. And it is fortunate that the public can consistently recognize that service and in some slight degree repay that obligation in the public election, for Col. Colville is a lawyer and statesman, not a politician. He has been a principal in the Red Wing, where he has principally practiced in this State, his opinion is received with as much respect as that of any man here, and we are certain that the public service will be in danger of no neglect or improper administration, by the election of Col. Wm. Colville.

Economy. Economy is prodigality when it dries up a cow to save three cents a day in wheat bran. Economy is prodigality when it exhausts the soil to save the expense of enriching it. Economy is prodigality when it scrapes the flocks to save hay. Economy is prodigality when it buys a poor article because it is cheap. Economy is prodigality when it "sifts" the job to save time. Economy is prodigality when it sticks to a poor tool to save buying a good one. Economy is prodigality when it spends as much in borrowing articles as it would cost to buy them.

The Vital Issues.

There are really but two vital points in the election about to take place in this State. A vote for Henry M. Rice is a ballot in favor of the immediate restoration of the Union under President Johnson's programme, and against negro suffrage. A vote for Marshall, on the contrary, must be interpreted to mean opposition to President Johnson's reconstruction measures, and the continuance of divided Union for an indefinite period, and negro suffrage. The questions for every voter to answer are these:

1. Are you for or against President Johnson's policy of reconstruction?
2. Are you for or against negro suffrage and negro equality?

Unmitigated simplicity! The "vital point" in your case is to put your head to soak in ice-water, a warm brick to your feet, and then go to sleep—and for Heaven's sake don't awake until Gabriel sounds his reveille. Such bosh may satisfy shirkers and sneaks, but it won't go down with old soldiers. Were it not impertinent, we would like to ask the writer of the above how much it cost him to escape the draft. But we won't do it.

Constitutional Amendment.

Officers who will be called upon to conduct the approaching elections should prepare for and bear in mind the fact that the ballots used in voting upon the Constitutional Amendment in this State must be separate from the ballots containing the names of County and State officers. Section 2 of "an act in relation to proposed amendments to the Constitution of this State," passed in 1860, prescribes this method in the following words:

Sec. 2. The voting upon such amendment shall be by ballot distinct and separate from the ballot for any officer voted for at the same election.

Any vote upon the amendment which is written or printed on the ballot containing the State or County ticket will, therefore, not be counted.

In answer to the charges of Mr. Blair and others that Secretary Seward was one of the members of Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet who opposed the success of the national garrisons in the harbors of Charleston and Pensacola in April 1861, Brevet Major General Meigs, who was connected with the expedition that went to the relief of the latter, states that, on the contrary, it originated with Mr. Seward, and its perfection was most ably assisted by him.

The Rev. HENRY WARD BEECHER has renewed his regular ministrations at Plymouth Church, Brooklyn. On the evening of the first Sabbath after his return, he preached a discourse on negro suffrage, which was listened to by as large an audience as could be packed into the edifice. A number of distinguished gentlemen were present—among others, the Hon. Schuyler Colfax, who occupied a seat in the pastor's pew. The gist of his discourse was that "liberty is the boon of every man, and it carries with it civil rights and citizenship. Having given liberty to four millions of bondmen, we are in honor bound to single them on a political equality with ourselves in every respect." The concluding portion of his remarks are particularly felicitous, and present the subject in its best aspect. We give a paragraph or two:

We must accept our own ideas. I believe in liberty and universal citizenship, and would give it to all, were they ten millions in number. I protest that this great question must be kept for settlement, not left in the hands of parties to be bargained and scrambled over in the race for power, nor to the selfish spirit of commerce, nor to the convenience of those who owned the slaves, nor to the necessary prejudice and the turbulent hatred of the ignorant among us who are blind to the fact that the whole question of their own right and elevation stands on the same ground.

No question is settled until it is settled right. We are called disturbers of the community and radicals. So is the sap in trees; so is the spade, which heralds the glorious summer. It has pleased God to give us victory on the field of battle. Our late foes are commingling pleasantly with us, and their leaders, seeing the folly of their course, ask pardon and advise a return to peaceful avocations. What more could we ask? Presenting to the world the grand spectacle of a mighty war, of fraternity in peace, having no turbulent desires for military despotism brooding in the breasts of the thirteen hundred thousand soldiers who, but a few weeks since, bore our arms, what more fit what more glorious crown can be given to the column than the leading up to the status of citizenship the four millions of emancipated black men, whose superiors we are, and whose servants in love, in Christ's example, we should be?

Go, then, down among the poor and lost, seek them, find them, clothe them with all the elements of citizenship, show them the light which you carry, establish and ordain them in liberty, and God shall give you a blessing that neither your children nor your children's children shall owe to the remotest generations.

The Synod adjourned to meet on the last Thursday of September, 1865, at Stillwater. The other Presbyter-

RELIGIOUS.

Editor of Messenger:

The Synod of Minnesota held its annual meeting at Chatfield, commencing Thursday evening, Sept. 28th, and closing at 11 A. M. the following Monday.

There was a full attendance of ministers. In the absence of the last Moderator, who was detained by serious illness, the opening sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. Kendall, of New York city.

On Thursday and Friday evenings and Sabbath morning sermons were preached by the Rev. Messrs. Marshall, Noble and Howell; and on each of these occasions the Church was filled to its capacity.

A tender and solemn interest was manifested from the beginning of the meeting, and increased during their progress. Such seemed to be the call for special services, that the Rev. Messrs. Smith and Marshall remained after the adjournment of the Synod to hold such meetings as Providence should direct.

On Sabbath morning five persons were received in the church by profession, and three by letter.

There were peculiar circumstances attending the meeting, which served to beget tender and awakening thoughts. The Rev. Mr. Holt, who for many years ministered to the church at Chatfield, had extended a very cordial and urgent invitation for the Synod to hold its next session at that place. He had spoken much to his people of the meeting, had urged them to seek and expect blessed results from it. In the early part of last summer he was removed to a better world. His death made a powerful and salutary impression upon the community. Although highly esteemed while among them, the general feeling was that his worth was never fully appreciated until his removal.

Many in Chatfield cannot speak of him without tears. Many, through his death, have been awakened and converted, who were not reached by his life and labors. They had not forgotten what he had said of the Synodal meeting, and the way was thus prepared for a precious meeting—such as it proved to be.

The predominant feature of the Synod was its Home Missionary character. This was due in no small part to the presence of Dr. Kendall—the general Secretary of the Home Mission Committee. His addresses were very interesting and encouraging. The services on Sabbath evening—the last night of the Synod—were in behalf of Home Missions. Several addresses of a stirring character were made on that occasion. Did space allow, it might be interesting to some to have the principal points that were dwelt upon and presented. But it must suffice to say that a new interest was awakened upon the subject. The Secretary stated in substance, that while we do not propose to interfere with any other denomination of Christians, or to enter fields that are fully cultivated by them, but give them "God speed," and rejoice in their success, we do propose to plant a Presbyterian Church wherever one is needed and the people desire it; that the means will be furnished to make it, by God's blessing, a success. After the meeting of Sabbath evening, two of the Elders present pledged themselves to give fifty dollars each toward every new church that may be built during the year.

Although the number of Elders, in our State, who could do likewise may not be very large, we doubt not that others, perhaps many others, may be found who can and will.

Encouraging reports were given from most of the churches. In five of them during the past year there were seasons of special religious interest, resulting in large accessions; in one case as many as fifty-three.

The Churches at Belle Plain, Blue Earth City and Minneapolis, have either commenced; or are preparing to build new houses of worship. A fine Church, with seats cushioned, has just been completed at Mankato. The day after its dedication, the seats were rented for $1,000—and still there was a call for twenty more.

The Church at Red Wing, hitherto dependent in part for its support upon the Home Missionary Fund, has recently become self-sustaining. Since last fall four new ministers have come into the State, and are occupying important fields with the most encouraging success. Others in the East are corresponding with a view of making Minnesota their home. If the people of this State are not supplied with churches and ministers, the reason will be that those necessary instruments of christian civilization are not desired.

The Synod adjourned to meet on the last Thursday of September, 1865, at Stillwater. The other Presbyterian Synod, (O. S.) also adjourned to meet at the same time and place. So that the good people of this city, who shall be spared to see the fall of 1866, will have the opportunity also of seeing the Presbyterian ministers of Minnesota, together with the representatives of the churches; and not only of seeing them, but of entertaining them in their homes, and I can vouch for it, that those who open their doors to receive them, will be ready to say as they bid them farewell, we have entertained, if not angels, some very good men.

Action of the M. E. Conference.

The M. E. Conference of Minnesota, representing the largest Protestant denomination in the State, held its annual meeting in Faribault a few days since. This body of christians took high ground upon the issues of the day. We give two reports of Committees which were adopted, we believe, without a dissenting voice:

ON FREEDMEN.

Resolved, 1st; That we hail, with unspeakable gratitude, the abolition of slavery, and acknowledge it to be the work of God.

Resolved, 2d; That the elevation of the freedmen by education, christianization and legislation, to citizenship, with all its rights, in the greatest boon that can be bestowed upon them by the nation or the church.

Resolved, 3d; This can only be brought about by agencies which have received the polish and power of these sources of elevation.

Resolved, 4th; That it is our conviction that our church, by its constituted authorities, should at once enter the field, and overpread the whole South with its teachings and pastoral agencies.

Resolved, 5th; That we will aid heartily the agencies now in the field by our own prayers and gifts, until such time as we have an adequate system of our own, to disburse the manifold gifts which the work demands at the hands of the Methodist Episcopal Church. All of which is respectfully submitted.

O. COBB,
Committee.

STATE OF THE COUNTRY.

The Committee on the state of the country presented the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1st; That we record with unfeigned gratitude to Almighty God, the suppression of the most gigantic rebellion that ever cursed our earth.

Resolved, 2d; That while our sympathies are with those who have given their husbands, fathers, sons and brothers for our national salvation, we feel that the cause is worthy of no valuable and noble sacrifice.

Resolved, 3d; That while we rejoice in the universal conviction that slavery is dead, we will assist in its burial by our sympathies and material aid in elevating the Freedman from the mental, moral, political and religious degradation consequent upon ages of servitude.

Resolved, 4th; That we cordially endorse the work of the Freedman's Commission, and as Ministers and Christian men, we will heartily co-operate with its agents in all their efforts to ameliorate those who have long been in bondage.

C. E. TRUSWOLD,
Committee.

The Mankato Record says the nomination of Rice for Governor does not give satisfaction to old and tried Democrats, but it supports him "because he was nominated by the Convention." To which sort of reasoning the Le Sueur Statesman, a Democratic journal which repudiates Rice, thus pointedly replies:

That is a new rule of Democracy that compels Democrats to support those who were their most unprincipled opponents a year ago, and who still refuse to renew their allegiance, merely because a Convention endorses them. Is it to such base uses that the Democracy must be prostituted? We had supposed that the rule only required Democrats to support Democrats.

There is not much comfort in all this for Mr. Rice, we opine.

CHILDREN HALF PRICE.

Everybody remembers McDonald Clarke, who was so well known in New York a few years since as the "Mad Poet." During the last year of his life, Clarke was made free of the Astor House table, and often this era of man of genius could be seen accepting the hospitality of the other doors were closed against his fallen fortunes. Every day one knew Clarke by sight; and one day while quietly taking his dinner, two Southerners, seating themselves opposite, commenced a conversation intended for the ears of Clarke. One said:—

"Well, I have been in New York two months, and have seen all I wish to see, with one exception."

"Ah!" said the other, "what is that?"

"McDonald Clarke, the great poet," responded No. 1, with great emphasis. Clarke, raising his eyes slowly from his plate, and some of the attention of the company was on him, stood, and placing his hands over his heart, and bowing with great gravity to the Southerners, said:—

"I am McDonald Clarke, the great poet."

The Southerner started in a mock surprise, gazed at him in silence for a few moments, and then, amidst an audible titter of the company, drew from his pocket a quarter of a dollar, and laying it before Clarke, still looking at him without a smile, Clarke raised the quarter in silence and dignity, bestowing it in his pocket, drew thence a shilling, which he deposited before the Southerner, with these words:—

"Children half price."

The titter changed to a roar, and the Southerner was missing instantly.

UNION PLATFORM.

Adopted by the Republican State Convention held at St. Paul, Aug. 16, 1865.

Resolved, That for the suppression of the greatest armed rebellion ever waged in the world against liberal principles, the rights of mankind and the integrity of the republic, and for the great boons of peace which we now enjoy, our profound gratitude is due to Almighty God; and under Him, to the wisdom, perseverance, courage and devotion of the loyal people of the United States.

Resolved, That while we recognize the dispersion of the armed forces of the rebellion, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that the local feelings and pernicious principles which culminated in rebellion still exist in the South to a great extent, and that it is now the duty of all loyal men to unite in demanding such wise and prudent measures of statesmanship as shall complete the glorious work of our arms, and such measures as may be necessary to the future safety and the lasting and perpetual peace of the nation.

Resolved, That having at all times denounced the dark spirit of human slavery, and having throughout the late war lent our hearty and cordial support to every measure looking to its suppression, we now hail its extinction with "unfeigned satisfaction," and with the conviction that we have been instrumental in cleansing the nation of this foul blot; and we furthermore pledge ourselves never to permit it to be revived in any portion of our national domain, under any new name or under any cunning pretense; determined that not only slavery shall perish, but that all its forms, appliances and theories shall perish with it.

Resolved, That inasmuch as the existing remnants of the so-called Democratic party is appearing to thrust its counsels upon the people in the questions arising out of the close of the war, and inasmuch as it is just and right that that party should be held fast to the responsibility of its past record, we therefore charge upon it,

1. That the course of servility extending through thirty years, it accustomed the Southern people to govern, inspired them with contempt for the North, and prepared them for that day when failing any longer to constitutionally govern the nation, they should set up the banner of revolt.

2. That through their leaders they encouraged the outbreak of the rebellion; assuring the insurgents that for every regiment sent by the North against the South, one should be sent to fight in its behalf, and that the streets of northern cities should run red with blood before the South should be subdued.

3. That by the denial of the right of the general Government to reconquer a state into obedience,—a denial resting upon the authority of the last of the Democratic Presidents,—they placed the Government in the early days of the struggle, and gave time for the treasonable conspiracy to organize and arm itself.

4. That at every stage of the great contest their sympathy was upon the side of the rebellion; and that they organized secret societies for traitorous purposes; opposed every decisive measure of the general Government; refused to direct or indirectly enforce the law; incited riots in the great cities; filled the people with gloom and despondency; and in the critical moment of the struggle declared that the war was a failure, that the nation was unable to suppress the rebellion, and clamored for measures, which, if carried out, could only have resulted in the division and destruction of the nation.

5. That it is now the intention of the Democratic party, by working on the prejudices of race, and with a view to their own re-establishment in power, to preserve the causes of the rebellion by retaining the black men of the South in a condition of penance and servitude; and as ignorant and oppressed class, cut off from all hopes of future improvement, a source of constant danger to the white population of the South, and a reproach to the humanity and civilization of the entire Nation.

Resolved, That the spirit of our institutions requires that the measure of a man's political rights shall be neither his religion, his birthplace, his race, his color, nor any merely physical characteristics; and that it would be subversive of both the spirit and form of our institutions, to permit any portion of our population to remain a degraded and subject class, and to support, and compelled to obey, a government in which they have no voice, and whose whole machinery may be directed to their destruction.

Resolved, That in the cruel murder of the late Executive of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, we recognize the natural result of the pernicious principles of the rebellion, which falling to destroy the life of the nation, struck down its ablest, most trusted and best beloved representative; and we pledge ourselves to gather from his martyrdom new devotion to the great principles so well maintained, and in defense of which he perished.

Resolved, That we tender to the officers and soldiers who have so gallantly sustained the honor of our State and the nation in the late war, our heartfelt and profound thanks; their services and sacrifices will ever be borne in remembrance by a grateful people; while the names of the gallant dead will be cherished as the proudest legacy which can be left to inspire and direct posterity.

Resolved, That the existence of an Imperial government, sustained by foreign bayonets, upon the soil of our sister republic of Mexico is a violation of the established policy of our nation, and a constant threat against its institutions and integrity, and we demand that our Government shall take such steps as will lead to the prompt withdrawal of the invaders.

Resolved, That the present financial condition of the country demands that the strictest economy should be practiced in the administration of both the State and National governments, and we ask that as soon as the re-established credit of the nation will permit, that it be indebtedness of the United States shall be made to bear a low rate of interest than at present, and that all inequalities in the burdens of taxation shall be removed.

Resolved, That the administration of the general government during the past five years, in the hands of the late lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, and in the hands of the present executive, Andrew Johnson, in all their efforts to preserve the Union and the liberties of the country, meets with our hearty approval and concurrence.

Resolved, That in behalf of the people of Minnesota, we thank the present executive of the State, his excellency Stephen Miller, and the officers associated with him in the State government, for the able, faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices.

Resolved, That in the event of the failure of proper national action, we are in favor of such State legislation as shall abundantly relieve the necessities of the disabled soldiers of this State and the orphans of those who have perished in the course of the war.

SUPERIOR JOB PRINTING.

Having added to our former large stock of JOURNAL MATERIAL, the Messenger Office is now better prepared than ever before to execute all kinds of PLAIN and ORNAMENTAL JOB PRINTING.

Our materials are mostly new, and our facilities for executing all kinds of work are ample. We can now turn out work that will compare favorably with that of any other office in the State.

Bring or send your orders to our office at the State Capitol, NEARLY AND EXPEDITIOUSLY.

GLORY! HALLERMAN!—By verdict of a military court, approved by Major General Pope and the authorities at Washington, Mr. Little Six, will swing tomorrow at Fort Snelling, between the hours of 12 and 3, in execution of his crimes of murder, rape, arson, &c., &c., committed upon innocent white people in 1862.

If we could, in view of this interesting event, and with a clear conscience, we would adopt the ordinary language of the court, and say—"may God have mercy on your poor miserable soul," but as we regret these deeds as being heinous, it is perhaps proper to waive the etiquette of court language.

Having entire confidence in the good judgment and taste of Col. McLellan, who has charge of the execution of these fellows, we have no doubt it will be done in a proper style. We would suggest to the Colonel that the drop ought not to be more than six inches! The authorities, we think, made one error. Wednesday evening has been adopted as a time of social prayer by most Christian denominations, and the day ought not to be thus desecrated. Some wet, muddy, disagreeable Friday, until for any other purpose, should have been selected. It is unfortunate to spoil a good day on such poor material!—Good bye, Mr. Medicine! Good bye, Old Six! We remember when you shot at us ten successive days, you old sinners! Good bye!

ATTEMPT AT MURDER.—The Prescott Journal gives the particulars of a bold attempt at murder near that town last week. Two Frenchmen named Prudent Lemay, and Frank Belot, went down from this city on Monday, on a steamer, and arrived at Prescott, Belot was intending to go on to St. Louis, but in the morning Lemay told him he knew where they could get three dollars a day at work in the country a short distance out, and in the forenoon they started out together. Lemay led him into a ravine, up the lake nearly a mile, when he knocked him down with a sharp pointed rock, horribly mauling his head, robbed him, and left him for dead. Lemay then came back to town, told the landlady to keep Belot's trunk, as he would not call for it for several days, took his things, bought and put on a new suit of clothes, and hired out on a raft to go down that afternoon. Supposing his victim dead he seemed in no hurry.

The meantime, Belot, after lying senseless several hours, recovered his consciousness and was able to get up and walk. He then went to town and told his story. There being no officer in town, John Dale volunteered to arrest Lemay, which he did just as he was leaving. Lemay was terribly frightened when he entered the court room and beheld the bloody features of the man whom he had supposed to be dead. He was examined before Police Officer Button, and is now confined in jail awaiting the sitting of the court. He deserves hanging.

Family Sewing Machines.

Two things are necessary to secure the welfare and happiness of a man. In the first place he must have a wife, and in the second place his wife must have a first class sewing machine. Among the many excellent machines brought out and improved during the past few years, we believe the GROVER & BAKER machines stand pre-eminent. For beauty and strength of stitch, rapidity of execution, simplicity of structure and adjustment, and excellence of finish, their different machines stand unrivaled. This opinion is justified from the fact that the first premium has been awarded them by every State Fair—at least in all where they have been on exhibition, including the Minnesota Fair of the present season.

Mr. Lewis Watson, State agent for Minnesota, has on exhibition at the Book store of Messrs. Eldridge & Cornman the various styles of the Grover and Baker machines. We advise our lady friends to call at once and examine these beautiful and indispensable articles, and then draw upon their husbands for the price of one of them. The investment will never be regretted. Mr. Watson will remain three days.

[From the United Daily Observer, Sept. 1865.]

PIPER PRIMER.—By reference to the list which we published elsewhere, it will be seen that the Singer Sewing Machines (both family and manufacturing) carry off the first premium from the State Fair, which closes today. It is worthy of remark that these machines are rarely seen at fairs and the Singer Co. have not entered into the general scramble for premiums which has characterized the past few years. The agent in this city saw fit, however, to come out on this occasion, in force; and notwithstanding the competition was sharp—the Wheeler & Wilson, Grover & Baker, &c., joining in the contest—it was plain to be seen, when the practical tests were applied that the "plumes" must be handed over to the Singer machines.

Any explanations with reference to these machines will be given by Mr. J. E. Schenk, Bernheimer's Block, Stillwater.

Strangers always look upon the advertising pages of a local paper as a fair index of the business of the town in which it is published.—Lake City Leader.

True as the Gospel of St. John, O. Leader! Yet, our columns do not exhibit a fair index of the business of our city. A few merchants and dealers who do not advertise are doing a one horse business; but when they get over their demoralization we expect to see them coming in on good time on the last quarter. If a merchant or other business won't pay to advertise, the business is not worth having, and the sooner the proprietor sells out or gives away his stock, the better it will be for him and his friends.

One of our Work Sheds.—There are now seventeen prisoners in the State Prison in this city. This limited number, in proportion to the population of our State, either speaks well for the morality of our people, or otherwise of the laxity of public justice—we don't know which. We will take the Christian view of the question, however, and place the limited number of convicts to the credit of the morality of our citizens. These seventeen convicts are now turning their attention to the manufacture of flour barrels for the benefit of the State and the contractors for their labor, Messrs. Seymour and Webster, and are now turning out one hundred and fifty-three barrels each day.

ST. PAUL ADVERTISEMENTS.—Our friend, R. O. Strono, has the most complete and extensive carpet establishment in the State. Persons purchasing in St. Paul will not fail to call upon Mr. Strono, 235 Third Street. See his card.

J. L. BEACON. whose card we publish elsewhere, has a very large and complete stock of everything pertaining to a wholesale grocery. Mr. Beacon is a gentleman, and to our certain knowledge, sells goods at the lowest figures. Persons desiring anything in his line will do well to give him a call.

UNDER ORDER.—Lieut. SAMUEL BLOOMER, of the Veteran Reserve Corps, who has been rusticated a few weeks with his friends in this city, has been assigned to duty at Gaul's Island, Boston Harbor, for which place he left last Saturday. Lieut. Bloomer, it will be remembered, lost a leg at the battle of Antietam, but has been serving in the invalid corps during the past two years. We congratulate him upon being assigned to his present agreeable post of duty.

A HORSE RACE.—A rake of a horse, whose stables were held by Charles Godfrey, was two weeks, underfoot to put on a few fractions, while passing up Main street. The animal was reined into and alley opposite the Lake House, where a party of workmen have just elevated a building some five feet, when the unruly fellow dumped himself under the building, leaving huge, heinous and driver behind him, in a few minutes. It required about a dozen, a dozen and a half, or two dozen men to extricate the animal.

CORINNO HOME.—During the past few days the members of the First Minnesota Heavy Artillery and the U. S. Engineering Corps, from this vicinity, who have recently been mustered out of the service, have been returning to their homes. We, in common with all others, extend them a cordial welcome. The Second Cavalry and the Third Artillery, we believe, are the only Minnesota troops yet in the service. These organizations will probably be continued in the service for some time to come for frontier defense.

SPRING FRUITS AND FLOWERS IN ATTACK.—The flowers of Saturday say it has been shown large and luscious raspberries, gathered by Mr. A. C. Elliott at Green Lake, Chicago, county, on the 5th of October. This is certainly out of the usual course of nature; but not more so than a large and beautiful snow-bell now growing in our garden (October 10th), upon a shrub which threw out a luxuriant bloom in May last.

NAVIGATION.—Lake St. Croix and the Mississippi continue at a fair boating stage—the water in the river being four feet above low water mark. Heavily loaded boats, however, have some difficulty in getting over the lower rapids. Small boats continue on the St. Croix river as far as Taylor's Falls without serious difficulty.

MINNESOTA CROPS.—From the best information we can derive from our exchanges and from personal inquiries of farmers, the average yield of crops the present season has been—wheat, 38 bushels per acre; oats, 75 to 80. The yield in Washington county probably exceeds these figures.

THIRTIETH WISCONSIN.—This Regiment was in Madison a few days since awaiting payment and muster-out. We congratulate the boys of the Thirtieth. Having been associated with them for near a full year, we take pleasure in having testimony to their soldierly qualities. We have seen as good, but never a better Regiment than the Thirtieth Wisconsin.

The editor of the Shawano County Journal says that the mosquitoes there, "where their clear through a man, just as a bunch of a goose-quill pop gun through a potato slice." That fellow writes like a very candid man, but we fear he has become demoralized. Save us from Wisconsin mosquitoes if you can!

SECURITY OF ICE.—Our friends at Hastings, Hudson and Prescott have been out of ice during the past fortnight. The ice season—our heated term—has lasted several weeks longer than usual; hence, the scarcity of the article. In this city we have been on half rations during the past week.

READING OF TESTIMONY.—A sermon preached before the University of Cambridge, by the Bishop of Exeter, and read by the Rector of the Episcopal Church last Sunday evening, has elicited so much interest, that a series of sermons by the same author, will be read as follows:

Sermons by the Bishop of Exeter, preached before the University of Cambridge. To be read on Sunday Evenings, at the Episcopal Church, Stillwater.

Sunday, Oct. 8.—The Atonement.

Sunday, Oct. 15.—Resurrection from the Dead.

Sunday, Oct. 22.—God's Providence in the World.

Sunday, Oct. 29.—The Ark Resting on Mount Ararat.

Sunday, Nov. 5.—The Gift of Repentance.

Sunday, Nov. 12.—Speaking in Parables.

Sermons at 7 p.m.

Potatoes are selling at fifteen cents per bushel in the vicinity of St. Peter. About eight months ago we were glad to get the same article at $1.50 per bushel at the same place, and then transport them forty-five miles. Guess there were not many grasshoppers in Nicollet county the past summer.

Col. J. P. HOGAN. of the Fifth, was in town a few days ago. The Colonel has advanced from a Lieutenant in the company raised by Capt. Curtis and himself, in this place, to the first position in the regiment.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.—We regret to learn of the death of MOSES VAN WAGEN, Esq., an old and highly respected citizen of Point Douglas, who died last Saturday, after a brief illness. Mr. Van Wagen was one of the early settlers of our county and was universally esteemed.

Lyon's Periodical Drops!

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES.

These Drops are scientifically compounded and prepared, and better than any Pills, Powders, or Nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who have used them, as the surest, most reliable and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to nature's choicer laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of J. M. L. Lyon, without which none are genuine.

Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 195 Chapel Street, New Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally, or by mail, (enclosing stamp), concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses.
Sold by Druggists everywhere.

A CARD.

Editor of Messenger:—In reply to many letters and inquiries from people in this section of the country, the undersigned take great pleasure in saying through the columns of your paper, that our renowned preparation known as COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE, is a certain cure for Dyspepsia, in its worst stages. Many cases of long standing, within our own acquaintance, have been cured, and we believe permanently cured, by the use of this stop-drops after eating, alone, instead of food, and enables the dyspeptic who has lived for years upon Graham bread and the plain diet, to eat as heartily as he pleases, and any thing he chooses, without danger of indigestion, or souring, or rising on the stomach. It is an infallible corrector of all such troubles, creates a healthy appetite, produces vigor, strength and energy. In every trial we have known it has speedily eradicated Dyspepsia, all its attendant sufferings, weakness, debility and loss of power, giving, instead, a proper activity and tone to the stomach and organs of digestion, and as we confidently believe, and as the published certificates in our circulars, almanacs, and in many of the leading Journals, from convalescent patients will confirm, completely, permanently, and almost miraculously "cure the worst case of Dyspepsia in existence." We warrant it in every instance. It can be obtained at all the Drug Stores in the United States, at 25 Cents, at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

BROWN'S PATENT BABY TENDER.

MANUFACTURED BY THE Baby Tender Manufacturing Company, 939 BROADWAY, N. Y.

THE BABY TENDER is the most complete and useful Nursery invention of the age. From a charming Spring Cradle, it is easily and almost instantly converted into either of the following articles, viz:

- A RECLINING COUCH, for children too young to sit alone.
- A SPRING CHAIR.
- A BABY WALKER, attractive and useful.
- A OTTOMAN, for the parlor and dining room.
- A HOBSEY HORSE, for children under five years.
- A BABY HAMPER, for security, exercise and amusement.
- A BABY HORSE, (or when elevated) a HIGH CHAIR, for the table.
- A NURSERY CHAIR.

The motion of the Baby Tender, which is universal and unobscured, is derived from a spiral spring in the bottom, and makes that of the common rocking or swinging cradle, it is in the highest degree healthy, delightful and soothing. It has been used by mothers from the earliest part of baby tending.

PRICES FROM $25 TO $50. OPTIONS OF THE PRESS.

From Harper's Weekly—Brown's Baby Tender—This article of nursery furniture is everywhere now, and supplies the place of everything heretofore used for that purpose. It is ten times more useful than a sewing or washing machine, where there is a baby.

From The Christian Advocate—Brown's Patent Baby Tender is compact, strong, and the most perfect of all the cradles of infants or small children. It is indispensable.

From The Weekly Tribune—Brown's Patent Baby Tender "glows infants and small children, the greatest possible variety of pleasing and useful exercise." It is indispensable to those having care of infants or small children.

From The Boston Journal, by K. P. WILLIAMS—IT HAS COME AT LAST! a contrivance by which the best of mothers is outdone—the most untiring of nurses throws quite into the shade.

From The Philadelphia Record—The latest wonder out on Broadway, and one that is becoming talk of the town, is Dr. Brown's Patent Baby Tender, an "unconditional institution," as N. P. Willis phrases it.

From The Advocate and Guardian—Dr. Brown's Patent Baby Tender is the product of many years employed in the consideration of this most important subject by an experienced practical physician, and should be in every house where there is a baby.

The Baby Tender is the best of all inventions for lessening the labor and anxiety of mothers, and preserving the health and happiness of her offspring. We do not speak from hearsay when we say that of all labor-saving, health preserving, sleep-inducing, quieting contrivances for the use of mothers and children, Brown's Baby Tender stands unrivaled.

For more than two years we have witnessed in our own family its practical advantages, and we feel that we are doing many of our readers a favor by calling their attention to it. The Baby Tender ought to be in every house where there is a baby.—N. Y. Independent.

Charge of the Light Brigade.
BY ALFRED TENNYSON.
(We repeat this poem because it will be read.)

Half a league, half a league,
Half a league onward,
Into the valley of Death
Rode the six hundred.
"Forward the Light Brigade!"
Was there a blunder?
Some one had blundered.
"Forward the Light Brigade!"
Was there a blunder?
Some one had blundered.

Can't you see the Light Brigade?
No man was there,
Not though the soldier knew
Some one had blundered.
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes.

Can't you see the Light Brigade?
No man was there,
Not though the soldier knew
Some one had blundered.
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes.

Can't you see the Light Brigade?
No man was there,
Not though the soldier knew
Some one had blundered.
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes.

Can't you see the Light Brigade?
No man was there,
Not though the soldier knew
Some one had blundered.
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes,
Tears in his eyes.

Can't you see the Light Brigade?

edge of the best use to be made of its advantages. It is a high compliment to his worth as a man, and a soldier that he should have been chosen by General Sherman to command the right wing of the army. General Sherman may not be a religious man, in the sense that Howard is, but he valued and respected Howard all the more for his Christian faith and practice. In the direction of a march, in the accomplishment of an arduous and dangerous duty, when speed and certainty were required, he knew that Howard would not fail him. In the record of four campaigns there stands no instance of his dereliction from duty; while many a man and but few of his hearers witness to his energy, perseverance, soldierly skill and manly courage.

Howard lost his right arm at Fair Oaks, during the bloody peninsula campaign. There is a wondrous pathos in an empty sleeve; but regret for Howard's affliction ceases when one looks into that kindly face, with its loving eyes and generous mouth—a face full of patience, gentleness and manly resolve. It is a beautiful tribute to General Howard and his professional Christian belief, that his influence upon those about him is positive. There is but little use of liquor, and a most gratifying absence of profanity, about his headquarters. I shall never forget his gentle rebuke to a soldier, who, in the very presence of death, was swearing in a decided manner: "Don't swear so, my man. You may be killed at any moment. Surely you do not wish to go into the next world with dreadful oaths upon your lips."

"Selling" A Fellow.

Last summer, while engaged in the tobacco and sugar business, I used to have for a customer in cheap cigars one of those knowing fellows whose knowledge serves better to bore his clients than to instruct them. You couldn't make him believe that—oh no! Tell him there were regalia cigars that cost $40 per thousand—it might do to stuff down the throats of some of our soldiers, but he was none of them. And so it was with everything; he knew best. It always appeared to be his delight to draw me into some controversy, no matter what subject it was, in order to hear himself hold forth. I tried every way I could think of to circumvent him, but at last I succeeded in laying him out as flat as a flounder.

It was on a Saturday afternoon, when I had just finished my purchase, and he himself to deal me out his portion, but I was awake for him. "Captain," said I, "I've made up my mind to go to California, and if you wish to go, into a speculation, now is your time."

"Ah, how?" said he.

"Why, you see them fifteen boxes of cigars? Well, there are two hundred and fifty in each box, and I will let you have the whole fifteen at a low rate, providing you will take them all."

"You give me one cent for the first box, two for the second, four for the third, and so double up on every box."

"Done!" said he; "fetch on your cigars. 'Spose you think I haven't money enough—eh?"

"Not at all, so let's proceed; here's the first box."

"And here's the second box."

"And here's the third box."

"And here's the fourth box."

"And here's the fifth box."

"And here's the sixth box."

"And here's the seventh box."

"And here's the eighth box."

"And here's the ninth box."

"And here's the tenth box."

"And here's the eleventh box."

"And here's the twelfth box."

"And here's the thirteenth box."

"And here's the fourteenth box."

over twenty dollars and forty-eight cents."

Here the globules of perspiration, large as marrow-fat peas, stood out in bold relief on his face, but at length he doled out the sum.

"Here's your thirteenth box—four over your forty dollars and ninety-six cents."

At this crisis he looked perfectly wild.

The sweat was pouring off him in streams, and the tobacco juice was running out of his mouth.

"Forty-two and a half—sixty-six. If I do, but I will be hanged if I will."

The Story of a Woman's Career.

Forty years' service as an officer in the English army.

An English paper says: An incident is just now being discussed in military circles so extraordinary that it is not its truth vouches for by official authority, the narrative would certainly be deemed absolutely incredible.

Our officers quartered at the Cape fifteen and twenty years ago may remember a certain Doctor Barry, attached to the medical staff there, and enjoying a reputation for considerable skill in his profession, especially for firmness, decision, and rapidity in difficult operations. This gentleman had entered the army in 1815, had passed, of course, through the grades of assistant and surgeon, and surgeon, in various parts of the globe. His professional acquisitions had procured for him his promotion to the staff at the Cape. He was clever and agreeable, save for the drawback of a most quarrelsome temper and an inordinate addiction to argument, which perpetually brought him into collision with his superiors.

He was excessively plain, of feeble proportions, and labored under the imperfection of a ludicrously squeaking voice. Any natural charm, which might have been, however, especially roused his ire, but was at length discouraged by his 'calling out' a persevering offender and shooting him through the lungs.

About 1840 he became promoted to be medical inspector, and was transferred to Malta. There he was equally distinguished by his skill and by his pugnacious propensities, the latter coming so inconveniently developed upon the slightest difference of opinion with him, that at last no notice was allowed to be taken of his fits of temper. He proceeded from Malta to Corfu, where he was quartered for many years, still conspicuous for the same peculiarities. When our Government ceded the Ionian Islands to Greece, and our troops, of course, quitted the territory, Dr. Barry was selected to leave the army and take up his residence for the rest of his days at Corfu.

He died about a month ago, and his death was discovered to be a woman! Very probably this discovery was elicited during the natural preparation for interment, but there seems to be an idea prevalent that either voluntarily, or by some accident, or by some writing, he had begged to be buried without a post mortem examination of any sort.

This most likely only aroused the curiosity of the two nurses who attended him, for it was to them, it appears, that the disclosure of this mystery was owing.

It is stated that the doctor was so important that medical testimony was called in to report upon and record its truth. By this investigation not only was an assertion placed beyond doubt, but it was equally beyond a doubt brought to light that the individual in question had at some time been a mother! This is all that is known of this extraordinary story, the time when commenced these singular deceptions are both shrouded in mystery. But thus it stands an indubitable fact that a woman was for forty years an officer in the British service, and fought one duel, and had sought many more, had pursued a legitimate medical profession, and received a regular diploma, and had acquired at most a celebrity for skill as a surgical operator!

The Atlantic Cable.

The Atlantic Telegraph Company have again commenced working in earnest. No time has been wasted in useless regrets over past failures, but those failures have been utilized with a view to future success. Various precautions have been taken and improvements resolved upon, where, by all weak points are so guarded against as to render accidents well-nigh impossible in the next attempt to submerge the cable. A new cable has been ordered, and its manufacture has already commenced. As at present arranged, it is intended that the Great Eastern shall sail from Valentia in the last week in May next, with the new cable on board. This cable will be laid to Newfoundland, and when that operation is completed the Great Eastern will return to the spot where the buoy was placed upon the broken cable a few weeks ago.

She will grapple for the broken ends, and no doubt is felt that they will be found. A splice will then be made, and the rest of the cable necessary to complete the line to Newfoundland will be laid.

There is every reason for believing that by the autumn of next year, two cables will be in full work across the Atlantic. The facts whereon this belief is based have been advanced in a statement drawn up by gentlemen who have taken an active part in the recent and previous attempts to lay a cable. This statement establishes twelve points, which plainly demonstrate that the objects which have hitherto prevented the accomplishment of the scheme are only of a temporary nature, and the knowledge bought by experience in the past, will infinitely reduce the risk in the future operations. The main facts deducible are that the insulation and conducting power of the cable is improved by immersion in deep cold water; that the superior stendness of the Great Eastern will enable the cable to be laid irrespective of weather; that faults can be immediately detected and made good; and that, even if the cable does part, it is possible with proper tackle to recover it uninjured from the depths of the Atlantic ocean.

How to be Hopeful.

There are some persons who seem to treasure up things that are disagreeable, on purpose. I can understand how a boy that never had been taught better might carry torpedoes in his pocket and delight to throw them down at the feet of passers by, and see them jump; but I cannot understand how a man, who is a well-meaning person could do such a thing. Yet there are men that carry torpedoes all their life, and take pleasure in tossing them at people. "Oh," they say, "I have something, and when I meet that man I will give it to him." And they wait for the right company, and the right circumstances, and then out with the most disagreeable things.

If they are reconstructed with, they say, "It is true," as if that was justification of their conduct.

If God should take all the things that are true of you, and make a scoundrel of them, and whip you with, you would be the most miserable of men. But he does not take all the truth on you. And there is no law of kindness? Is there no desire to please God? Thank you, kindly, said the old gentleman, at the same time beginning to dismount, with all the deliberation becoming a deacon, "I don't care if I do."

"Ah, don't trouble yourself to get off, Deacon," said the neighbor. "We haven't a drop in the house."

BLANCHING CERRY.—Seeing lately some remarks on the different modes of planing celery, I am reminded of a plan I saw in Oxfordshire in August last. It was simply placing a drain pipe upright, allowing the plant to grow up through it. My friend in whose garden I saw it, assured me that he not only had his celery blanched much better, but it was ready for the table much earlier. That the latter is the case I can affirm from my own observation, for the plants I saw growing in the pipes had already grown above the pipes, while those treated in the ordinary way were not half as high.—Cottage Gardener.

A schoolmaster tells the following good one: "I was teaching in a quiet country village. The second morning of my session I had leisure to survey my surroundings, and among the scanty furniture, I espied a three-legged stool. 'Is this the dunce block?' I asked a little girl of five. The dark eyes sparkled, the curls nodded assent, and the lips rippled out, 'I guess so; the teacher always sits on it.' The stool was unoccupied that term."

A TELLING PUCK.—"Do you know who built this bridge?" said a person to Hook. "No," replied the wit, "but if you go over, you'll be told."

Gen Butler has squared his accounts with the Government.

Gen. Grant was at Philadelphia on the 5th inst., en route for Washington.

Ex-Gov Gen. Pillow is at Washington, among the parlor seekers.

The Mayor of Vicksburg has allowed the freedmen to testify in his courts.

The Bowery Theatre on Broadway, St. Louis, was totally destroyed by fire on the morning of the 5th inst.

J. N. Spooner, of Boston, is the successful bidder for the Government Mills at Chattanooga. His bid was $175,000.

The blockade runner, Little Ada, captured during the rebellion, has arrived at Oswego, from Washington, via the St. Lawrence, and is to be used hereafter in the coast survey.

"Ah, Pat, dreams go by contraries," said the gentleman.

"And faith they may that," said Pat, "so her ladyship is to give me the tobacco, and his honor the tax."

Our materials are mostly new, and our facilities for executing all kinds of work are ample. We can now turn out work that will compare favorably with that of any other office in the State.

Bring or send your orders if you want jobbing executed NEATLY and EXPEDITIOUSLY.

Union Meetings.

Hon. IOWAN DOWNEY, the young and gifted member of Congress from this district, will address the people of the St. Croix Valley as follows:

STILLWATER, Thursday, Oct. 26.
MAINE, Friday, Oct. 27.
TAYLORS FALLS, Saturday, Oct. 28.

The local committees of the various towns should make arrangements for these meetings and give Mr. Downey a rousing reception. We respectfully call the attention of the Union town committees to the above appointments, and trust they will make all necessary arrangements.

WEST FISHING.—During his recent visit to this valley, Hon. Iowan Downey and his wife, the Mrs. Downey, went fishing. We saw them when they returned, and they each looked like a pair of fish. Hon. Downey had been fishing for a week, and he had a very good success. He had caught a large number of fish, and he was very much pleased with his success. He was very much pleased with his success. He was very much pleased with his success.

NEEDS REPAIRS.—We would suggest to our worthy Mayor and Councilmen that the stairway leading to Nelson's Block, or 'Zion's Hill,' as it is familiarly called, which needs repairs. This is a continuation of the stairway, and we very much fear that, in consequence of the dilapidated condition of this important thoroughfare, some person will become the victim of a broken limb or a broken neck—in which event the city may be compelled to pay the damages.

Quite a large gang of workmen have been engaged most of the summer on other streets of the city. Some of them have been struck from over exertion, and all of them have been broken or mangled pick-axes and shovels to the value of hundreds of dollars, in consequence of friction with the gravel—and we see no reason why this movement should not be made at once, while the workmen have their hands in and the weather is becoming cool.

Lakeland Items.

SOLDIERS' FESTIVAL AT LAKELAND.—The citizens of Lakeland and Afton gave our returning soldiers a worthy reception at Perin's Hall on Monday evening of last week. Speeches, a good supper and a dance were the order of the day. The Second Cavalry Band furnished the music. Some of our old Lakeland friends should have reported the proceedings for the Messenger. We desire to secure a reliable (not contradictory) Lakeland correspondent.

A firm from St. Anthony have purchased the saw mill formerly owned by Mr. Watson of Lakeland. Saint Anthony lumbermen, exhibit good sense by transferring their lumber business from the Upper Mississippi to the St. Croix. The new proprietors are Messrs. Seaborn & Hansen.

—Since the closing of the war and the return of the soldiers, Lakeland has seen no former activity, and we are glad to learn that business is reviving and population increasing. We always had an affection for "Shanghai," and are glad to note this improvement. We hope our friends there will keep up posted with reference to local affairs.

AN EXCITING RACE.—An exciting race, or a race occasioning much excitement among sportsmen, was run on the Lakeland course last Saturday. The contestants were "Calico," owned by O. R. Ellis, Esq., and "Little Indian," owned by Stiers Lyman, Esq. The respective drivers of these pony took stock quite lively on the result, and between two and three thousand dollars changed hands on the occasion.

"Calico" distanced his aborigine competitor for the first three quarters of a mile, but at the outcome, "Indian" was two lengths ahead. The animals are small ponies, and neither of them need be ashamed of their running qualities. Should another match be made, which seems quite probable, there will be no difficulty in losing or winning money. On a former occasion we believe "Calico" was the champion. Master Dan, Curtis of this city held in strings of "Calico," and Master Sam. Powers, of St. Paul, those of "Indian."

NET CRACKERS.—Nut crackers are a very convenient and useful implement at a dinner table; but we could never see their usefulness in a concert room. Most people who attend concerts, it is to be presumed, do so for the purpose of enjoying the entertainment. Such being the case, it is somewhat annoying to be compelled to submit to the intolerably noisy nuisance of cracking nuts between a pair of jaws as large as those of the animals that Bismarck trotted over the plains of Moab. We would suggest that, hereafter on occasions of public entertainments, a recess of half an hour be given for the benefit of parties of pea-nut proclivities.

CONCERT.—The Hall Brothers gave a concert at Holcomb's Hall last Thursday evening. The singing was "some."

The Great Eclipse.

Editor of Messenger:

The great eclipse of the sun on Thursday next, the 19th, will be visible throughout the entire United States and Southern Canada.

At Lawrence, Kansas, New Madrid, Charleston, S. C., and intermediate points, the eclipse will be central and annular, and will be extremely interesting; the sun, for four or five minutes, at the middle of the eclipse, will appear like an intensely dazzling ring suspended in the firmament.

As none of the culdiers that I have seen give the elements of this eclipse at any point within many hundred miles of this place, the following calculation for the position of Stillwater will, perhaps, interest many of your readers:

Beginning of the eclipse, 7:25 A. M.
Middle " " 8:57
End " " 10:30
Duration " " 3:05

Right digits, or $\frac{1}{2}$ eclipse, on the sun's south-east limb. PHILLO.

SUNDAY BACK.—We would much prefer recommending the incoming than the outgoing of good citizens. We regret to learn that the Honorable H. L. Thomas, of Afton, together with his family, has left Minnesota for his former home in Indiana. Judge Thomas has served several terms in our State Senate and House of Representatives, and will leave a vacuum in our country, and especially in the sterling town of Afton. The Judge and family have our warmest wishes for their prosperity, mingled with our regrets at parting with them.

GROVER & BAKER'S SEWING MACHINES.—Mr. Lewis Watson, State agent for the sale of the celebrated Grover & Baker sewing machines, being unable to accommodate all of our citizens during his visit last week, will return to day and remain to-morrow at Elling's, Germania book store, where orders will be received for his machines. Those of our citizens desiring to procure one of these justly celebrated machines, should call upon Mr. Watson to-morrow, as his time is limited.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES. at the Episcopal Church, by the Rev. Mr. Ellis.

The Trials of St. Paul through the Roman Empire.—This series of lectures will commence D. V. on Sunday evening next, Oct. 22.

1st Lecture. Jewish preparation for the Gospel—Heavenly preparation for the Gospel. Preparation in the Roman Empire for the Gospel.—Great men for great periods in the world's history. The Gospel preached in Judea. The child born in Tarsus.

Service at seven o'clock. All seats free.

THROUGH THE STATE.—We return to our contemporaries throughout the State, and to other friends, our most profound gratitude for the hearty welcome they have extended to us upon our return to our old post. We shall endeavor, in the management of the Messenger, to merit the complimentary notices of our friends. Their kindness is fully appreciated.

REMOVED WORK.—The extensive saw mill of Messrs. Staples & Co., which has been partially suspended in its operations during the past few weeks in consequence of serious damage to the machinery, was fired up yesterday and started on its way rejoicing. We shall hereafter make a note of the improvements to, and capacity of, this mammoth establishment.

OKOCHKA STRAW-BIRDS.—We much to the autumn array were very much the order. J. W. Boxley, of Afton, has just presented us with a number of straw-birds, together with strawberry blossoms, which he gathered on the prairie near his residence yesterday, the 16th of October. Is the old course of nature here repeated? Mr. B. also exhibited some specimens of cotton, almost matured, which the slight frost of Sunday morning nipped in the bud.

FIRST FROST—THE WEATHER.—The first frost—and that of sufficient severity to touch the most tender vegetables—appeared in this place on Sunday morning, the 14th. This morning, the 17th, is warm with a gentle fall of rain.

RETURNED.—Wm. E. Thorne, Esq., returned a few days since from a six weeks' rattle-tour in the rural districts of New York, Philadelphia, etc., where he has been purchasing his winter stock of goods.

DISTRICT COURT.—The full term of the District Court will commence its session in this city on the 14th of November.

TIME OF ELECTION.

All voters should bear in mind that in Minnesota and Wisconsin the election takes place on TUESDAY THE SEVENTH DAY OF NOVEMBER.

Go and hear Governor Donnelly.

Every citizen should go out next Thursday evening and hear Governor Donnelly. It will be a feast of reason and flow of soul. We would especially urge those who are squeamish on the Suffrage question to go.

To listen to a few wholesome truths will not demoralize them. As yet, we cannot announce the place of meeting, but presume it will be at the Court House if the weather is unfavorable for an out-door meeting.

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.

Yesterday we received an anonymous communication through the post-office, signed "A Diminuerer." Were we a sportsman, we would have given two to one that when the right leg six feet in his rear, and protrudes his tongue four feet over his left shoulder. He is one of that style. The term "Democrat" is somewhat obsolete, yet we have some lively recollections of what it once meant.

The writer says he is not a patron of the Messenger, but that he sometimes reads it "in the saloons and other places of public resort," and from the time of your last issue infer you are in favor of equality and suffrage. If so, please come out boldly and show your colors.

Editorially, we admit the right of a man to make a jackass of himself, provided he does not annoy his neighbors by his unbecomingly braying. Neither do we admit the constitutional right of the same ass to propound any questions he may deem proper; yet we know of nothing in the constitution of the State of Minnesota or of the United States which compels us to reply to the request.

It was not necessary for the writer to sign himself a "Diminuerer," for his bad orthography and his sublimated impudence would have convinced the oldest man living that he runs with that old worn-out machine.

We have seen so many of them in civil life, and so few of them in the army, we cannot be deceived by the ear-marks. We concede that our correspondent is a "Diminuerer," and that he ought to "vout" the "Diminuerer" ticket. "For where-soever the carcass is, there will the buzzards be gathered together," and on election day we could place our finger on him every time. We don't question his Democracy—he talks like a Democrat, he looks like one, he acts like one, and he is one of them! Good bye, sweet scented bird.

His insolence, however, furnishes us a theme upon which we designed making a few remarks, though from a more Christian text. By way of preface, we wish to say that we do not undertake to speak for the Republican party. If that party, or the Democratic party, coincide with our views, we will give them credit for the same; but we only presume to speak our own sentiments. We do this without fear, favor or affection. We are in favor of equal suffrage to all men, whether white or black—native or foreign born—and shall vote for the amendment to our State Constitution which strikes down all distinctions between races. We have no special affection for the African race—neither have we any affection for the breech-clout Indians, and some other tribes we might mention—yet they have the privilege of suffrage with ourselves. The blacks have been universally loyal—the Indians and other tribes have been almost universally disloyal. The blacks are law-abiding citizens, industrious, add to the wealth of the country, and to a considerable degree intelligent—the Sioux Indians and some other tribes are disloyal, lazy and ignorant, and are paupers upon the Government. Two hundred thousand negroes, after the enslavement of their race for near a century, took up arms in support of the Government that had enslaved them. They have been declared free. They pay taxes for the support of the Government the same as Henry M. Rice and William R. Marshall, or any other citizen of Minnesota.

If this class of citizens are taxed, why should they not be represented, and have a voice in the making of our laws? The universal pseudo Democratic party, and a few weak-jointed Republicans, with holy horror reply—"O, give the nigger the right of suffrage, and you place him on an equality with the white man—I consider myself better than a negro!" That is the argument. That is the Democratic argument. It is a novel one. The proposition carries with it the question, either in the mind of the man who urges it, or in the minds of his neighbors, that he is not as good as a negro! Perhaps they are not—it is a question of their own raising. They must have conjurations of conscience on the subject—otherwise they would never have made the issue.

The question of "equality," resulting from universal suffrage, is merely bush—the result of prejudice and weakness. We have seen huge squaws sporting duplex elliptic horse skirts, and we have seen the wives and daughters of our Democratic candidates basking in the same dazzling costume. Does that place them on an "equality" with the squaw? By parity of reason it does. Scores of men in this city will vote the Democratic ticket. We will deposit our ballot in the same box; but by this circumstance they are made our "equal." God pity us, if such be the case!

Five hundred men in St. Paul will vote for Henry M. Rice, not one of whom has ever been, or ever will be, admitted to his vine-table. Does that make an "equality" between Henry M. Rice and the men who vote early and often? We don't see it in that light.

An "equality" of political and civil rights does not necessarily carry with it an equality of social relations. We think we can deposit our ballot in the same box that Mr. Rice or a black man does, without being compelled to take tea with them, or to waltz with their wives or daughters the same evening—or on any other occasion. Prejudice, not reason, governs this class of fanatics.

The events of the late war—the most heartless rebellion ever known—have broken the shackles of the slave and declared him free. If he be free, why deny him the rights and immunities of freedom? He was born upon our soil, has fought our battles alongside with our brothers, he obeys our laws and complies with all the requirements of citizenship, and yet Democracy would deprive him from citizenship. And why? Because the black man is loyal to his government and the white democratic politician is disloyal to his government.

The Suffrage question may be defeated in Minnesota. If so, the battle must be fought over again, and the victory will be won. Right will triumph over error. Prejudice must succumb to enlightened judgment; for,

"Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again; The eternal years of God are hers; But error, wounded, writhes in pain, And dies amid its worshippers."

The Republican nominations in Freeborn county are as follows: Representative—A. Armstrong. Register of Deeds—John Wood. Treasurer—J. L. Gibbs. Clerk of Court—H. D. Brown. Sheriff—A. W. St. John. Judge of Probate—R. J. House.

Good nominations! We have known most of them long and well. If our jolly friend Gruns, and our energetic and excellent business friend ANDY ST. JOHNS can everlastingly wipe out the pseudo democracy of that county, we shall conclude that they are neither "Free-born" or half white. But, they will do it!

Send the Mercantile to Hell!

From a column article in the La Crosse Democrat of October 2d, we make a few extracts. The Democrat is edited by the notorious "Black Pomeroys." Our sense of decency and of christian propriety will not admit of a transfer of the entire article to our columns. We quote from the vile sheet a few paragraphs:

"Where is Lincoln, the joking patron saint of niggerism, who owes so much to John Wilkes Booth, and who is still with forgotten already, with hardly a dozen in the land to receive his memory?"

"Where is Chase?"

"Where is Brough?"

We deprecate assassination, yet we feel to thank God for calling LINCOLN home, wherever that home may be. The will of God be always done on Earth as it is done in Heaven. Not all the cannon in the world ever sent an echo so far into the future as did the report of a pistol that fatal night in a Washington theatre, where great men were players and nations the spectators. It woke up the people of America. It broke the spell. It gave the country a statesman for President. It dashed its Sic Semper Tyrannis from Maine to the golden strands of our western boundaries, and halted the advance of usurpation most effectively."

Nero fiddled while Rome was burning; yet Nero's carcass never contained a heart so black, so devilish, so hellish, as that of Black Pomeroys. The thing that wrote that article would ravish his mother, would sell his sister's virtue for a glass of beer, and for two pennies would crucify the acknowledged Savior of the world. Black Pomeroys should be lashed naked round the world, and then killed by the indignant gaze of a brigade of condemned government mules. Kicking to death would be too good for him; and after death, if there be a place where "the worm dieth not and the fire is not quenched"—a seething, hissing, boiling furnace, where the anathematized crackles and the flames leap and dash throughout the eternal ages—there is the place for the miserable mercantile.

Black Pomeroys is the exponent of "Democracy" in Wisconsin. May God have mercy on Wisconsin Democrats!

Connecticut.

The little State of wooden nutmegs and basswood hams which skirts Long Island Sound on the north, is distinguished in American history for its Charter Oak, its Hartford Convention, its Isaac Toney, and its vote against universal suffrage. Most of the Democrats of Connecticut labor under the sincere delusion that the hiding of a parchment in a hollow tree is an act of heroism, gallantry, statesmanship and the same which not even a century of meanness can obliterate. That act fills the State of Connecticut with ineffable and imperishable glory, and every Copperhead in the State compromises with his conscience for having liberty to-day, by praying three times daily with his face turned toward the stump of the Charter Oak, the fit emblem, mouldering as it is in lifeless and leafless decay, of his own dead patriotism. Of the Hartford Convention, Isaac Toney and his vote against impartial suffrage, we have only to say that they are all of a piece, "links of the same snarl, made out of the same twine."

But the vote of 6,500 against universal suffrage in Connecticut is wiped out by the vote of 25,000 in favor of it in Iowa, with a clean margin of 18,500 to spare.—Chicago Tribune.

A dispatch has been received from General Pope at Washington, stating that intelligence had been received from Central City, dated September 28, stating that General Connor had surprised the Indians under Medicine Man, on the Tongue River, killing fifty and capturing five; also their winter supplies and six hundred horses. On the 1st ult., Col. Cole's command had met the Sioux, Arapahoes and Cheyennes, and after three days continuous fighting, had killed and wounded two hundred Indians, and scattered them beyond recovery, with loss of stores, camp equipment and several of their chiefs. Our loss was not more than fifty killed and wounded.

The Owatonna Plaindealer records the following terrible calamity:—A family by the name of Clark, living near Crain Creek, in this county, were burned to death by the explosion of Kerosene oil on Sunday night last, in the following shocking manner:

Having occasion to fix a lamp, Mr. Clark undertook to do so without extinguishing the blaze. The oil in the lamp took fire and exploded, communicating the fire to the can, which exploded, enveloping him in flames. He ran out door, and rolled himself upon the grass, but before he could succeed in extinguishing the fire he was burned to a crisp. His wife was sitting near the door, holding a sick child, but when the explosion took place fell to the floor, and before they could be rescued both mother and child were burned to ashes.

The St. Peter Tribune says the races at that place last Saturday were attended by about one thousand persons. Roan Jim, who won the running race at the State Fair, was beaten by the Nicolle. More badly. The distance run was a quarter of a mile, and the defeat of Jim is attributed to the shortness of the track. The time made by the mare was twenty-five seconds.

The Rochester Republican says the house of Charles Whitney was entered on Thursday evening last, and his pants abstracted. The thief, however, dropped the vest near the door and carried off the pants. Mr. W.'s money and watch were in the vest pocket, so the thief was only the unmentionables ahead.

At a meeting of the enlisted men of the 10th day of September, held at Fort Snelling on the 10th day of September, it was resolved to present a flag, which had been purchased with funds belonging to the regiment, to the city of Red Wing, as a acknowledgment of the many favors shown to all soldiers, and more especially to the 10th regiment.

The Atlas, of Minneapolis, says: Troublesome—the bears—not such as frequent Wall street, but genuine Bruins are getting to be troublesome to our sheep-growers. Several complaints of raids upon their flocks.—Bears, with an appreciative relish for good mutton, seek to gratify their appetites at the expense of sheep-owners. Our country authorities have offered a premium of $15 each for Bruin's scalp.

James Winters, of Plainview, raised 1,000 bushels of wheat on forty acres of land, which is the largest yield we have heard of this year, says the Rochester Republican.

A drove of sheep, fourteen hundred in number, passed through Rochester on Tuesday last. They were driven from Michigan, and were bound for Rice county.

HORACE MERRILL.—We are deeply shocked to learn that Mr. Warren Youmans, of Rice county, was brutally murdered in a hayrack, as is supposed by a man named Patrick Callahan, residing in that neighborhood.—Mr. Youmans' body was found in a hayrack, and the crime was no more.

The latest instance of "rotation in crops" came to our knowledge yesterday, through Mr. James Lynn, of Rice county. He presented us with a basket of turnips grown on a crop of winter wheat early in August. The seed was sown on the stubble, and in two months' time has brought forth a crop, well nurtured, of large size and fine quality. We'll bet on Minnesota yet for a rich soil and favorable climate for fast growth.—Wisconsin Republican.

Rice's Reply to Wigham.

MR. RICE.—Mr. President, I am in favor of peace. If the seceded States are determined to remain out, I am in favor of their going in peace. I would go further than this. I would give them the forts and arsenals within their limits. If they ask more, I would divide the navy with them. If they wanted more, I would release them from the public debt.

I would even give them more than that. ANYTHING FOR PEACE. "Here, Lord, I give myself away," "This land I can do."

UNION PLATFORM.

Adopted by the Republican State Convention held at St. Paul, Aug. 16, 1865.

Resolved, That for the suppression of the greatest anarchy ever waged in the world against liberal principles, the rights of mankind and the integrity of the republic, and for the glorious peace which we now enjoy, our profound gratitude is due to Almighty God; and under Him, to the wisdom, perseverance, courage and devotion of the loyal people of the United States.

Resolved, That while we recognize the disservice of the armed forces of the rebellion, we cannot shut our eyes to the fact that the local feelings and pernicious principles which culminated in rebellion still exist in the South, and that it is now the duty of all loyal men to unite in demanding such measures as shall complete the glorious work of our armies, and such measures as may be necessary to the future safety and the lasting and perpetual peace of the nation.

Resolved, That having at this time denounced the dark spirit of human slavery, and having throughout the late war lent hearty and cordial support to every measure looking to its suppression, we now halt its extinction with "unfeigned satisfaction," and with the conviction that we have been instrumental in cleansing the nation of this foul blot, and we furthermore pledge ourselves never to permit it to be revived in any portion of our national domain, under any name or under any cunning pretence; determined that, not only slavery shall perish, but that all its appliances and theories shall perish with it.

Resolved, That inasmuch as the existing remnant of the so-called Democratic party is aspiring to thrust its consoling upon the people in the questions arising out of the close of the war, and inasmuch as it is just and right that that party should be held fast to the responsibility of its past record, we therefore charge upon it,

1. That a course of servility extending through thirty years, it accustomed the Southern people to govern, inspired them with contempt for the North, and it prepared them for that day when falling any longer to constitute the nation, they should set up the banner of revolt.

2. That through their leaders they encouraged the outbreak of the rebellion, and through the insurgents that every regiment sent to the North against the South, one should be sent to fight in its behalf, and that the sword of correction should run red with blood before the South should be emancipated.

3. That by the denial of the right of the general Government to exercise state into silence, and by the denial of the authority of the last of the Democratic Presidents, they aided the anarchy and the lawlessness in the early days of the struggle, and gave time for the treasonable conspiracy to organize and arm itself.

4. That at every stage of the great contest their sympathy was upon the side of the rebellion; and that to their credit they organized secret societies for traitorous purposes; opposed every decisive measure of the general Government; resisted directly or indirectly the enforcement of the draft; incited riots in the great cities; filled the people with gloom and despondency, and finally, in the critical moment of the struggle declared that the war was a failure, that the nation was unable to resist the rebellion, and, in consequence, which, if carried out, could only have resulted in the division and destruction of the nation.

5. That it is now the intention of the Democratic party, by working on the prejudices of race, and with a view to their own selfish interests, to preserve the causes of the rebellion by retaining the black men of the South in a condition of penance and servitude, as an ignorant and oppressed class, cut off from all hopes of future improvement, a source of constant danger to the white population of the South, and a reproach to the humanity and civilization of the entire Nation.

Resolved, That the spirit of our institutions requires that the mere fact of a man's political religion shall neither his religion, his birthplace, his race, his color, nor any merely physical characteristics, and that it will be unbecomingly of both the spirit and form of our institutions, to permit any portion of our population to remain a degraded and subject class, to be used as a tool, and compelled to obey, a government in which they have no voice, and whose whole machinery may be directed to their destruction.

Resolved, That in the cruel murder of the late Executive of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, we recognize the natural result of the pernicious principles of the rebellion, which, failing to destroy the life of the nation, struck down its ablest, most trusted and best beloved representative; and we pledge ourselves to the great principles he so well maintained, and in defense of which he perished.

Resolved, That we tender to the officers and soldiers who have so gallantly sustained the honor of our State and the nation in the late war, our heartfelt and profound thanks; their services and sufferings will ever be borne in remembrance by a grateful people; while the names of the gallant dead will be cherished as the proudest legacy which can be left to inspire and direct posterity.

Resolved, That the existence of an Imperial Government, sustained by foreign bayonets, upon the soil of our sister republic of Mexico, is a violation of the established policy of our nation, and a constant threat against its institutions and integrity, and we demand that our Government shall take such steps as will lead to the prompt withdrawal of the invaders.

Resolved, That the present financial condition of the country demands that the strictest economy be maintained in the administration of both the State and National governments, and we ask that as soon as the rebellion shall be suppressed, the administration of the United States shall be made to bear a less rate of interest than that of the rebellion, and that all inequalities in the levies of taxation shall be removed.

Resolved, That the administration of the general government during the past five years, in the hands of the late lamented President, Abraham Lincoln, and in the hands of the present executive, Andrew Johnson, in all their efforts to preserve the Union and the liberties of the country, meets with our hearty approval and concurrence.

Resolved, That in behalf of the people of Minnesota, we thank the present executive of the State, his excellency Stephen Miller, and the officers associated with him in the State government, for their able, faithful and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties of their respective offices.

MORTGAGE SALE.—DEFAULT HAS

been made in the payment and conditions of a certain mortgage, executed and delivered by Charles A. Morgan of Ramsey county, Minnesota, to Tracy G. Rich, of DeLaware county State of New York, dated the eleventh day of December, A. D. 1857, and recorded December sixteenth A. D. 1857, at 2 o'clock P. M. in book D of the records of mortgages on pages 1 & 2, in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county of Washington, State of Minnesota, and by which mortgage said Charles A. Morgan bargained, sold and mortgaged unto said Tracy G. Rich, his heirs and assigns, the following premises lying and being in said county of Washington and State of Minnesota, and described in said mortgage as follows, to wit:—Lots one (1) and two (2) in section ten (10); the north half of the north-east quarter of section ten (10); lots one (1) and two (2) in section fifteen (15); lot two (2) in section fourteen (14) all in township thirty-two (32) N., 13th of range twenty-one (21) W., and containing in all, according to Government survey, two hundred and eighty-five 70-100 acres, together with all the hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging or in anywise appertaining,—to secure the payment of the sum of $1,000 ($1,000) dollars and interest, according to the terms of a certain promissory note of even date with said mortgage, executed by said Charles A. Morgan to said Tracy G. Rich, due on or before six months after date, and which mortgage contains a power of sale duly recorded with said mortgage.

And, whereas, said mortgage and note were on the twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1862, sold, assigned and transferred by said Tracy G. Rich, by E. S. Edgerton his attorney in fact, to Robert G. Coffin of DeLaware county, New York, which assignment is in writing, and was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Washington county on the fourth day of October A. D. 1863, at one o'clock P. M. in book G of mortgages on pages 308 & 309.

And, whereas, there is now due and unpaid upon said note and mortgage the sum of $1,017 16, and no proceeding at law or otherwise have been instituted or had to recover the amount secured to be paid by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, and said above described mortgaged premises and property, with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder, in said county of Washington, for cash, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House, in Stillwater, in said county of Washington, on Wednesday, the thirtieth day of December A. D. 1865, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, to pay and satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage and expenses of sale.

ROBERT G. COFFIN, Assignee. VAN ETTER & OFFICE, Attys for Assignee, St. Paul, Minn. October 21, 1865.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Default has been made in the conditions and payment of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by John P. Parker and Isabella Parker his wife, of the county of Washington in the State of Minnesota, to Maria B. Dayton of Ramsey county and State of Minnesota, which mortgage bears date September 12, 1863, and was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county of Washington, on the 23d day of May, A. D. 1864, at two o'clock P. M. in book G of mortgages on pages 297 and 298, in and by which mortgage said mortgagors bargained, sold and mortgaged to said Maria B. Dayton, her heirs and assigns, the following premises lying and being in said county of Washington and State of Minnesota, and described in said mortgage as follows, to wit:—The west half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the north-west quarter of section No. fourteen (14) in township No. twenty-eight (28) north of range No. twenty (20) west of the fourth principal meridian, containing 160 acres of land, to secure the payment of the sum of one thousand and two hundred dollars, according to the terms of two promissory notes of even date with said mortgage, one for $100 due one year from date, and the other for $200 due in two years from date, and both bearing twelve percent per annum interest—payable annually, and the further sum of fifty dollars attorneys' fees; and which mortgage contains a power of sale duly recorded with said mortgage.

And, whereas, said mortgagors did, at the time of executing said mortgage, waive and surrender to said mortgagee their right of redemption of said premises (except one year) which waiver is included in and recorded with said mortgage.

And, whereas, said Maria B. Dayton and Lyman Dayton her husband did, by their assignment to said mortgagee, at the date of this notice, upon said note and mortgage the sum of one thousand and three hundred and forty-three dollars and eighty cents ($1,343 80) and no proceeding at law or otherwise have been instituted or had to recover the amount secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and said mortgaged lands and premises above described, shall be sold at public auction, by the Sheriff of said county of Washington, at the front door of the Court House, in Stillwater, in said county of Washington, on Wednesday, the thirtieth day of December, 1865, at twelve o'clock noon for cash, to the highest bidder, to pay and satisfy the amount then due on said note and mortgage and expenses of sale.

CHARLES H. OAKES, Assignee. VAN ETTER & OFFICE, Attys for Assignee, St. Paul, Minn. Dated October 21, 1865.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas, default has been made in the conditions and payment of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by L. A. Balch and Amanda E. Balch, wife of L. A. Balch, of Ramsey county, State of Minnesota, to C. W. Babcock, dated October 16, 1862, which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county of Washington and State of Minnesota, on the 28th day of November, 1862, in book C of mortgages, on page 77, and was also recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Ramsey county, State of Minnesota, on the 1st day of January, A. D. 1863, in book 2, on page 60 and 61, and on the 15th day of June, 1864, in book 2 of mortgages, on page 14 by 25, House 14 by 25, and no proceeding at law or otherwise have been instituted or had to recover the amount secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and said mortgaged lands and premises above described, shall be sold at public auction, by the Sheriff of said county of Washington, at the front door of the Court House, in Stillwater, in said county of Washington, on Wednesday, the thirtieth day of December, 1865, at twelve o'clock noon for cash, to the highest bidder, to pay and satisfy the amount then due on said note and mortgage and expenses of sale.

Commissioner of the State Land Office of the State of Minnesota, do hereby declare and make known that a public sale of School Lands will be held in the undermentioned county at the time and place hereinafter designated, to wit:

DENMARK-TOWN 21, RANGE 20.

Part of Sec. 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

GENERAL MARSHALL.

The Union Candidate for Governor,
At the Court House,
MONDAY EVENING, NOV. 6th.

The Respective Candidates.

It has been near three years since we have taken any stock in political matters or partisan candidates—not because we have not felt an interest in each, but because other duties have prevented such participation, and rendered it improper for us to do so.

The election transpires next Tuesday, and we do not deem it improper now to say a word. With reference to the personal abuse of Mr. Rice, the Democratic candidate for Governor, we have no sympathy. He has been a valuable man to the State in many respects, and has been valuable to the Union party. For these services, we would give him full credit. He helped us when we needed help, and for this we give him all the credit that is his due. That he has been erratic in politics—at one time for Breckinridge and again for Douglas; at another for the Rebels and then for Lincoln, is patent to all Minnesotans. His ability, however, no man can question. His personal integrity, we think is above the average of the Democratic standard. He is a good looking, and understands his "biz."

Captain Nix, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is a gentleman of cultivation, a true soldier, and a lawyer of sterling legal ability. We regret to see so good a man in so poor company.

Of the other candidates on the same ticket, we know nothing, and we doubt very much if any man in the State outside of their school districts, does—therefore we have nothing to say with reference to them.

General MARSHALL, the Union candidate for Governor, is a statesman and a patriot. His integrity was never questioned—his patriotism is universally acknowledged, for he enlisted as a private when we needed men—his bravery and pluck no man above or below ground will dare impugn—his honesty, fidelity and ability, none can gain-say. His associates on the ticket are of the same material—every man.

We have no time to elaborate. The question is this:—One class of candidates was placed in nomination by disloyalists—men who have fought the Government during the rebellion and given aid and comfort to the rebels; while the other class was placed in nomination by those who believe that we have a Government, that the Government should be sustained, and that treason should be punished.

Our motto is for Marshall and the entire Union ticket—State and County. Soldiers and citizens! to the polls next Tuesday!

Regiment of Regulars Coming.

We clip the following from the St. Louis Republic of Tuesday:
The Tenth United States Infantry, of which, Colonel E. B. Alexander, acting assistant Provost Marshal General for this State, is Colonel, left Washington on the 20th instant, for St. Louis, from which they will probably be ordered to a permanent station in Minnesota. Major Hall is at present commanding, but Colonel Alexander may be ordered to join them as soon as the papers and records of his office are turned over to the War Department.

Gov. Donnelly in Stillwater.

The crowd that greeted our member of Congress last Saturday evening was not as large as it should have been; yet the court house was nearly filled. Mr. Donnelly made one of his happiest efforts, and we regret that a thousand other Republicans and Democrats were not present to hear his sound logic. Had they been there, they might have learned many things they never dreamed of in their philosophy. We can only condense from his St. Paul speech, reported in the Press, a synopsis of his masterly effort. He said although the South had been conquered and the arms with which they had slaughtered our sons and brothers had been wrested from their grasp, yet the spirit which prompted them to the hellish deed still existed and needs watching.—He cited as an incident the fact that Napoleon, although he had been exiled from his country after his failure at Waterloo, yet the spirit of love of the French people for their great leader still burned brightly, and in twenty years after his banishment a member of his family was elected to the Presidency of France. Just so the devotion of these rebels of the South for their leaders still exists, and if we admit them to all the rights of citizenship without qualifications, the very men who have been the most active in attempting to secure the overthrow of the Government, will be placed in power, and endanger again the stability of the Republic. As an instance he referred to the infamous speech recently delivered by one John S. Pendleton, a so-called Union candidate for Congress in Virginia, who publicly rejoiced over the death of our Union Generals, and who, although a bitter secessionist, is trying to foist himself into Congress under the garb of Unionism. Mr. Donnelly said that the difference between the Democrats and Union parties on the question of the reconstruction of the States was, that the former favored the admission of the seceded States upon the condition in which they were previous to the rebellion, giving the right of universal suffrage to the white rebels who fought against us, but refusing that right to the colored population, who had been our only friends in the South, while the latter was in favor of progress and advancement, and opposed to the inequality of such a state of affairs, which must necessarily lead to disastrous results.

He produced statistics to show that the people of the Southern States were not in a condition to warrant the exercise of the elective franchise, owing to the state of ignorance in which they have been kept by the institution of slavery. He claimed that the right of suffrage should be based upon an intelligent qualification without reference to color. He spoke of the various objections urged by the Democrats against the right of negro suffrage, and satisfactorily showed up their fallacy. In the concluding portion of his address, he handled the Cops. without gloves, and they fairly groined under the weight of his logic and eloquence. So terrible were his blows, we noticed a number of the Stillwater Democrats leaving the room. Gov. Donnelly is doing a good work for universal suffrage.

Louder on the Music!
Let every Democrat step to the music of the Union and we shall march to sure victory.—St. Peter Advertiser.
If one out of every one thousand of the so-called Democrats of the country had "stepped to the music" of the life and drum during our recent difficulties, instead of stepping over into Canada, or remaining at home doing all they could to discourage enlistments and otherwise embarrass the Government, the war would have been terminated long before it was, thousands of valuable lives would have been spared to families and country, and millions of treasure saved. This thing of "stepping to the music" comes with bad grace from such men as those whom the Advertiser represents.

The democrats are loud in their advocacy of equal taxation, but oppose equal suffrage. They are willing to receive the black man's money to defray the expense of Government, and even let him bear arms in its defense, but he must not vote. Out with such logic. Frivolous, not reason or justice, is the entire stock of the Democratic party. We trust that some of them will yet be enabled to convince the world that "they are as good as negro."

UNNATURAL UNCLIES.—The Democrats are very anxious for the welfare of their "Southern brethren," but they care nothing for their colored nephews and nieces! O, unnatural uncles!

A Leaf from the Record of Henry M. Rice.

We have already called attention to the sympathy manifested by Mr. Rice for the cause of secession before any overt act of treason had been committed, and we wish to keep it before the people continually. During the debate on the Crittenden compromise measures, Mr. Rice used the following language, which may be found in the Congressional Globe for 1860-'61:

Mr. President, I regret the shape this discussion has assumed. I do not like to hear Senators on either side talking about force. It is unbecoming as Senators and as brothers.—I wish to say to the Senator (Mr. Wigfall) and to the Senate of the United States, that but a few weeks ago, my State, so far as I am advised, considered that the greatest calamity that could befall this country was secession; but I believe they now consider a civil war a greater calamity than secession. We will do all that we honorably can to keep the Southern States with us; but if they are determined to leave us, they must go in peace. Having spent my life upon the great lakes, the great rivers, and the great plains of the Northwest, being one of the first pioneers in any of those western States, I wish to say, also, that I do not believe either of them will vote a dollar or a man for secession. Hence, why this talk about force, about war and bloodshed, or are a family of brothers! We are a family of brothers! and if we cannot live together in peace, in the name of God, let us agree as brothers to separate in peace. I hope there will be nothing more said here about war; I do not like to hear it."

The Springfield, Mass., Republican, says the season of drought in New England, just ended, has been a remarkable one, and has damaged many manufacturing and agricultural interests to an immense extent. Mills, which with plenty of water, would have given their owners thousands of dollars profit every week, have been compelled to lie idle, or nearly so, and farmers who expected a rich return from their crops have in many cases been disappointed. The period properly covered by the drought was the eighty-one days from July 25th to October 15th, no water falling during that period except in the slight drizzles. None at all fell after the 25th of July, the whole month of August brought only one and sixty-seven one hundredths inches, September only one and sixty-five one hundredths, and the first half of October twenty-seven one hundredths. The aggregate amount for the eighty-one days was only two and fifty-nine one hundredths inches.

The next Legislature of our State will be called upon to make provision for the proper care and treatment of the insane of Iowa that Governor Miller has received notice from the proper authorities of Iowa that no more patients from Minnesota can be received in the Asylum of that State, the capacity of that Institution permitting no further increase of inmates from abroad. Steps will, therefore, have to be taken at an early day, by our Legislature.

Two weeks ago Ferdinand Kirchner brutally murdered Henry Henning, a soldier, in Buffalo, to secure a hundred dollar bill in his possession. The same night he was arrested, on Tuesday committed, on the next day indicted, last week on Wednesday brought up for trial, on Thursday convicted, and on Friday sentenced to be hanged.

Speaking of the horse Dexter's trotting a mile in 2:18 1-5, Wilkes' Spirit says:
"The mile made by this horse is the fastest ever performed by a trotter, and, of course, takes its place on record as such. In this regard it compares with the 2:12 of Flora Temple, though we are inclined to think that, all things considered, the latter remains the best performance. It must be understood that we rate the value of a performance by the way of going, and under the saddle is, in our judgment, the fastest and most natural way for a horse to go. Inasmuch, however, as Dexter is also a capital harness and wagon horse, and quite young, being only seven years old, it is not improbable that he will some day equal Flora's time in harness.—He is not a mere brushing horse, but one that can rate high through the mile."

"If you are in favor of suffrage, say so; and if of something else, say that; the Republican party can't be hurt by free discussion."—Speech of Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts.

The above is a fit reply to those friends who think the present is not a time to speak for Equal Suffrage, for fear of hurting the party of the Union. Not to speak will hurt it more!

The Tennessee Senate have passed the bill allowing the negroes the right of testifying in the Courts.

AGES OF LIVING PUBLIC MEN.—Napoleon III, is 56 years of age; Alexander, Emperor of Russia, 47; Emanuel, 45; Lord Palmerston, 81; Lord John Russell, 73; Earl Derby, 66; the Lord High Chancellor of England, 65; Mr. Gladstone, 56; President Johnson, 57; Secretary Seward, 65; Ex-Secretary Cameron, 66; Chief Justice Chase, 56; Chas. Sumner, 54; Gen. Wade, 65; Senator Wilson, 53; Gen. Banks, 49; Ex-Secretary Fessenden, 59; James Buchanan, 74; Speaker Colfax, 44; Winter Davis, 48; Vallandigham, 44; Wood, 53; Jeff. Davis, 57; Sidel, 72; Mason, 67; Breckinridge, 43; Henry A. Wise, 59; Toombs, 55; Orr, 43; Alexander H. Stephens, 53; and Mr. Foster, presiding officer of the United States Senate, 59.

Mon. James L. Orr, of South Carolina, formerly Speaker of the Federal House of Representatives, said in the South Carolina Reconstruction Convention:

"The North has conquered us, and has a perfect right to fix the terms of our restoration to civil and political rights. The special to the Herald says: "Adjutant General Lorenzo Thompson reports that the State of Mississippi alone is credited with having furnished upwards of seventy-nine thousand negroes and one thousand whites to command them. They are represented to have been raised during the years 1863 and 1864, for service during the war."

Since we have a right to fix the terms of the restoration of the Southern people to their political rights, it is cruel to say that they shall all be restored to their political rights at once, both those who lost them by their own treason? Especially, is it hard that that class of the people of Mississippi which has 79,000 men to defend the Union should have the same rights as the class which has furnished but one thousand to fight for the rebellion.

We are told from France that all the remarkable features of the season of 1811 have been repeated in 1865 in the French vineyards. The grapes have been so plentiful, and the juice so spontaneous, that large quantities of wine have been wasted in consequence of the want of casks in which to store it, and of the people to gather or the grapes and make the wine. In parts of Burgundy it is said that new wine is selling at four cents to five cents per gallon to those who furnish their own barrels. Prices like these are so very low that it will follow that there will be an immense production of brandy, and the best quality of this liquor, wanting only age, can be sold in France at considerably less than a dollar a gallon.

The Peoria Transcript says that the Copperhead administration of that city have in their employment on the police force of the city, a rebel soldier, who staid in rebellion until the Confederacy collapsed, and then came North to accept office from his friends. In the meantime, hundreds of returned soldiers, every way qualified for the position, are out of employment.

A hard battle has been fought between the Paraguayans and the allied army, resulting in the utter defeat of the former, with great loss.

MORTGAGE SALE.—DEFAULT HAS

been made in the payment and conditions of a certain mortgage, executed and delivered by Charles A. Morgan of Ramsey county, Minnesota, to Tracy G. Rich of Delaware county State of New York, dated the eleventh day of December, A. D. 1857, and recorded December sixteenth A. D. 1857, at 2 o'clock P. M. in book D of the records of mortgages on pages 1 & 2, in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county of Washington, State of Minnesota, in and by which mortgage said Charles A. Morgan bargained, sold and mortgaged unto said Tracy G. Rich, his heirs and assigns, the following premises lying and being in said county of Washington and State of Minnesota, and described in said mortgage as follows, to wit:—Lots one (1) and two (2) in section ten (10); the north half of the north-east quarter of section ten (10); lots one (1) and two (2) in section fifteen (15); lot two (2) in section fourteen (14) all in township thirty-two (32) n. rth of range twenty-one (21) west, and containing in all, according to Government survey, two hundred and eighty-five 70-100 acres, together with all the hereditaments and appurtenances thereto belonging or in anywise appertaining.—To secure the payment of the sum of six hundred ($600) dollars and interest, according to the terms of a certain promissory note of even date with said mortgage, executed by said Charles A. Morgan to said Tracy G. Rich, due on or before six months after date, and which mortgage contains a power of sale duly recorded with said mortgage.

And, whereas, said mortgage and note were on the twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1862, said assigned and transferred by said Tracy G. Rich, by E. S. Edgerton his attorney in fact, to Robert Collins of Dutchess county, New York, which assignment is in writing, and was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Washington county on the fourth day of October A. D. 1862, at one o'clock P. M. in book G of mortgages on pages 502 & 503.

And, whereas, there is now due and unpaid upon said note and mortgage the sum of $1017 16, and no proceeds at law or otherwise have been instituted or had to recover the amount so due to be paid by said mortgagee, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and said above described mortgaged premises and property, with the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, by the Sheriff of said county of Washington, for cash, to the highest bidder, at the front door of the Court House, in Stillwater, in said county of Washington, on Wednesday, the thirteenth day of December A. D. 1865, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, to pay and satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage and expenses of sale.

ROBERT G. COFFIN, Assignee.
VAN ETTER & OFFICE, Att'ys for Assignee, St. Paul, Minn.
October 21, 1865.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Default has been made in the payment and conditions of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by John P. Furber and Isabella Furber his wife, of Ramsey county, Minnesota, in the State of Minnesota, to Maria B. Dayton of Ramsey county and State aforesaid, which mortgage bears date the 12th of 1865, and was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county of Washington, on the 23d day of May A. D. 1865, at two o'clock P. M. in book G of mortgages on pages 297 and 298, in and by which mortgage said mortgagors bargained, sold and mortgaged unto said Maria B. Dayton, her heirs and assigns, the following lands and premises, lying and being in the county of Washington and State of Minnesota, and described in said mortgage as follows, to wit:—The west half of the north-east quarter and the east half of the north-west quarter of section No. eight (8) in township No. twenty-seven (27) north of range No. twenty (20) west of the fourth principal meridian, containing 160 acres of land, to secure the payment of the sum of one thousand and twenty ($1,200) dollars, according to the terms of two promissory notes of even date with said mortgage, one for $310 due in one year from date, and the other for $890 due in two years from date, and both bearing twelve per cent. per annum interest—payable annually, and the latter sum of fifty dollars attorney's fees; and which mortgage contains a power of sale duly recorded with said mortgage.

And, whereas, said mortgage, waive and surrender to said mortgagee their right of redemption of said premises (except one acre) which waiver is included in and recorded with said mortgage.
And, whereas, said Maria B. Dayton and Lyman Dayton her husband did, by their assignment in writing, dated July 28, 1864, duly assign, transfer and set over unto Charles H. H. Baker of Ramsey county aforesaid, the said mortgage and the debt secured thereby, which assignment was recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county of Washington, on the 30th day of July, 1864, in book G of mortgages, on pages 342 and 343.

And, whereas, there is now claimed to be due and owing, at the date of this notice, upon said note and mortgage the sum of one thousand and three hundred and forty-three dollars and eight cents ($1,343 08), and no proceeds at law or otherwise have been instituted or had to recover the amount secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed, and said mortgaged lands and premises above described, will be sold at public auction by the Sheriff of said county of Washington, at the front door of the Court House, in Stillwater, in said county of Washington, on Wednesday, the thirteenth day of December, 1865, at twelve o'clock noon for cash, to the highest bidder, to pay and satisfy the amount then due on said note and mortgage and expenses of sale.

VAN ETTER & OFFICE, Att'ys for Assignee, St. Paul, Minn.
Dated October 21, 1865.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, COUNTY OF

Washington, ss.—In Probate Court, in the matter of the last will and testament of Eric Erickson, late of said County deceased.
An instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Eric Erickson, late of said County deceased, having been deposited in this office for probate:

It is ordered that the proofs of said instrument be taken before me at my office, in the city of Stillwater, in said county, on the 22d day of November, 1865, at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day, at which time and place all persons concerned may appear and contest the probate of said instrument.
And it is further ordered, that notice of said application and hearing be given to all persons interested in said estate, by publishing a copy of this order for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Stillwater Messenger, a weekly newspaper published in said county of Washington.

HOLLIS R. MURDOCK,
Judge of Probate.

Local and Miscellaneous News.

SUPERIOR JOB PRINTING

Having added to our former large stock of JOBBING MATERIAL, the Messenger Office is now better prepared than ever before to execute all kinds of PLAIN and ORNAMENTAL

JOB PRINTING.

Our materials are mostly new, and our facilities for executing all kinds of work are ample. We can now turn out work that will compare favorably with that of any other Office in the State. Bring or send your orders if you want jobbing executed NEATLY and EXPEDITIOUSLY.

ENORMOUS VEGETABLES.—The St. Paul Press of a recent date boasts of the presentation of a beet which weighed twelve pounds. The Lake City Leader boasts of the presentation of a similar vegetable which measured 32 inches in circumference, and weighed 15 1/2 pounds, (turnip variety.)

Were we in the habit of boasting, we would spread ourself on the beet question. Our friend, Hon. J. H. Soule, of Grant township, Washington county, presented yesterday with a trio of beets which, we think, will beat the world. The first weighs sixteen and one-fourth pounds—is round and perfect. The second one measures fifteen inches in circumference, twenty-eight inches in length, and weighs fourteen and one-half pounds! The third is indescribable. It is a combination of beets—four in number—all from the same seed, and interlacing in serpentine order and forming a most singular combination. The latter specimen can be seen at the season of Marshal Shortell on Main street—the two former we propose to serve up at our own table on Thanksgiving day, provided a vessel of sufficient capacity to cook them can be procured in the city. Commend us to Jesse Soule for big vegetables.

HOME AGAIN.—In the hurry of making up our last issue, we neglected to notice the return of our genial friend, D. L. Grocott, who has been rusticated in Europe during the past few months. Mr. Grocott left our city last July, traveled over the continent, had a good time generally, and returned a good day since in excellent health.

Mr. C. M. Hathaway, another old citizen, returned last week. Mr. Hathaway went east a year or two since, had a severe attack of the patriotic fever, enlisted in the Fourth Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, served his term out with credit to himself and returned to Stillwater and will resume his old business—being satisfied that there is no country so inviting as that of Minnesota. We take pleasure in welcoming back a good citizen.

ANOTHER EXCITING RACE.—"Calico" and "Little Indian" tried their respective qualities the second time last Saturday, on the new track a short distance south of the city. On a former occasion the "Indian" was the successful nag. On the last occasion, a large crowd assembled and the excitement between the friends of the respective horses ran high. The stakes were $1,000—$500 on each side—besides an innumerable number of side-bets. On this occasion "Calico" distanced her competitor, mile heat, sixty feet. We understand that some technical questions have been raised, but not being a sportsman we have no opinion on the subject. "With malice toward none, with charity for all" each of the little ponies and their respective friends, we trust the questions of difference will be amicably adjusted.

GRAND SECRET.—Stephen Girard, than whom no business man ever lived, used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the dullest times, as well as the busiest times, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public, it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost." If any of our business men who do not advertise would take the same sensible view of the question, their shelves would not mould on their shelves. There is nothing more valuable to a business man than printer's ink.

H. KNOX TAYLOR.—We don't advise our people to go abroad to do their shopping—believing religiously in patronizing home institutions, all things being equal—but if they still go to St. Paul, we assure them there is no better place in the North-West to purchase cheap and desirable goods than at the splendid establishment of H. Knox Taylor, Third street, near the bridge. We know whereof we speak. Mr. Taylor's stock cannot be excelled. See his advertisement and you will learn what he proposes to do.

THE FIRST SNOW—THE WEATHER.

The first admonition of the approach of old winter occurred last Thursday, 26th. It was not much of a snow storm, however, for it soon melted into warm rain. After the falling of the snow, the dahlias and daisies in our flower garden looked up from their white covering, and greeted the smiling sun with as much freshness and beauty as they sported in the glowing month of June. This morning, however, a nipping frost occurred and we bid adieu to those genial summer friends. Weeks ago frost occurred in the middle and eastern States; but not until within the past few days have we had sufficient in Stillwater to kill the most tender flowers and vegetables. The atmosphere is now cool and bracing; but we cannot reasonably expect more than a fortnight of our present beautiful autumnal weather.

LARGE YIELD OF WHEAT.—Mr. August Stegmann, of this county, harvested 1100 bushels of wheat the present season from 23 acres of ground. This crop was raised in the town of Afton, and is an average of near forty-eight bushels to the acre. Open your eyes and wonder, ye south-downers and down-easters. What do you think of that?

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure yesterday of taking by the hand our genial friend, Gen. S. F. Hersey, of Bangor, Maine. If the General should fail in making his annual visit to the Stillwater friends, his thousands of Minnesota friends might reasonably conclude that he was non est in-ventus, and would decree that a report should be made accordingly. Welcome, General, to the Pine City!

HEAVY FARMING.—The crop of wheat harvested by Mr. Treger, of Cottage Grove, was even larger than we gave him credit for a week ago; his crop amounting to 25,000 bushels, which he sold for $25,000. Won't some of our friends give us an interest in a small farm?

LOST.—A lady friend advertises today for some lost meat. We suppose there is a local significance connected therewith; but no rewards offered we leave the solution to parties who have not been visited by their traveling "meat-bone" during the past two months.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. McGROHAY, an old resident of our city, was taken ill last Friday. He applied to a physician for treatment—went to his residence on Second street, but before taking his physician's prescription, died. But a few minutes before his death he was walking about his house. Disease—congestive chills.

SNOW DROPS SOUTH.—Our friend M. S. Willard returned from Chicago this morning. He informs us that last Saturday there were six inches of snow on the ground at Prairie du Chien, and that the streets were filled with cutters. Our friends south should come up to our (in comparison) tropical climate, where "December's as pleasant as May."

BOWLING ALLEY.—Mr. Robinson is erecting a building on the corner of Chestnut street and Union Place for a bowling alley. There will be two tracks seventy feet in length. Bowling is healthy exercise, and we would much prefer seeing such a saloon going up than a lager-beer or whiskey shop.

MAJ. THOMAS M. NEWSON.—We inadvertently omitted to notice that our old friend, Capt. Thomas M. Newson, has been brevetted Major in the Commissary Department, for meritorious services. What makes the promotion all the more flattering to our old friend of the corps editorial, is that it was granted upon the spontaneous recommendation of the Commissary General of Subsistence, solely in recognition of the meritorious services of Major Newson, and was entirely unsolicited, as it was wholly unexpected by him.

We congratulate Major Newson upon this accession of military rank, and trust that, and we shall set the whole land heaving to the peal of Equal Rights!

Beauregard has been appointed Superintendent of the Jackson and New Orleans Railroad.

MARRIED.
